Congress Seeks Excise Tax End At Early Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a compromise bill to repeal most federal excise taxes and lead the way for price cuts on a variety of goods from automobiles to lipsticks.

The House whipped the bill through by voice vote after only a few minutes of discussion. The Senate was set to consider it promptly, in a double play designed to allow President Johnson—if he wishes—to put the first reductions into effect by Saturday.

The bill as passed is the result of an agreement Wednesday night between House and Senate conferees. The two houses had passed different versions.

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., one of the principal Senate conferees, said that chamber will act as soon as possible after the House votes.

Such a legislative schedule could send the measure to President Johnson in time for him to sign it Friday, bringing most tax cuts into effect Saturday.

Actually, the initial 3 per cent reduction in the automobile excise — $70 on an average car — and the repeal of the 10 per cent levy on the manufacturer's price on air conditioners are retroactive to May 15. Anyone who purchased such an article on that date or later would be eligible for a refund.

Tax cuts going into effect the day after the President signs the bill include repeal of the 10 per cent retail excise taxes on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage, and of the manufacturer's excise taxes on a variety of goods including appliances, radio and television sets, cameras, business machines, musical instruments and most sporting goods.

Most of the remaining excises, including taxes on theater tickets, cabaret checks and club dues, as well as the stamp taxes on real estate purchases, would go out either next Dec. 31 for an, 1.

The conference agreed on a schedule for automobile excise reductions slightly different from either the House or Senate versions, but did not change the provisions for the first 3 per cent cut on which the two chambers had agreed.

Under the compromise bill, the 10 per cent tax would be reduced to 7 per cent retroactive to May 15, 6 per cent effective next Jan. 1; 4 per cent Jan. 1, 1967; 2 per cent Jan. 1, 1968; and 1 per cent Jan. 1, 1969, and thereafter.

Another tax which, under the bill, would be phased out gradually, is the present 10 per cent levy on telephone service. It would be reduced to 3 per cent Jan. 1, then cut by stages to zero by Jan. 1, 1969.

Ex-Officer Threatens To Kill Johnson

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A former Air Force captain with a record of mental illness dating back to his retirement 20 years ago has been charged with threatening to kill President Johnson.

Federal agents arrested Dorsey Lee Webster, 54, of Richmond, Va., Wednesday and charged him with threatening the President's life in a series of telephone calls to the White House Tuesday.

The calls were taken by a Secret Service Agent who reported Webster as saying, "I'm going to kill Johnson. I'm going to kill that s.o.b."

Agents said the calls were traced to the bachelor officers quarters at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, where Webster had rented a room Monday on his arrival here from Cincinnati.

Secret Service agents said Webster's records show he was given a 100 per cent disability discharge in 1945 and has been in and out of psychiatric hospitals since then.

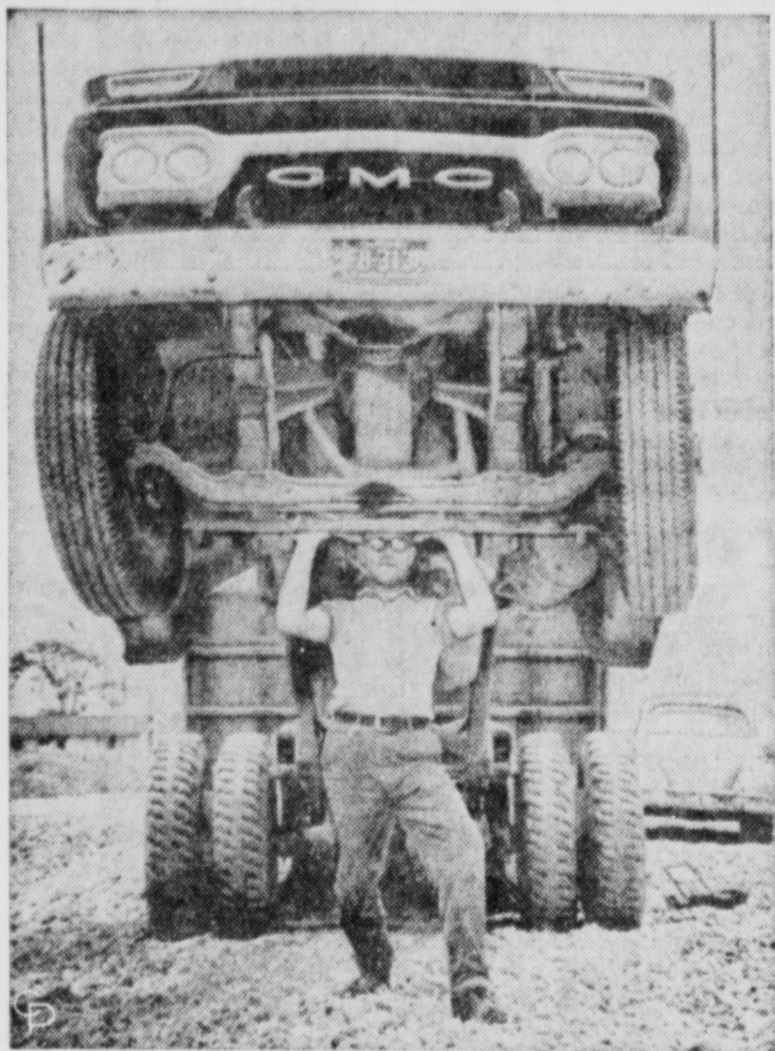

Asst. U. S. Atty. Roger Makley said he has been unable to determine why Webster supposedly went to assassinate the President.

Dominican Battle Takes Lives of 3 More Yankees

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The toll of American dead in the Dominican Republic has risen to 23 with the announcement that three U.S. paratroopers were killed in shooting this week.

The rebel leader, Col. Francisco Caamaño Dengo, claimed Wednesday that 67 Dominicans were killed and 265 wounded in the heavy firing between U.S. forces and rebel supporters on Tuesday.

The Inter-American Peace Force announced that a U.S. paratrooper was killed Wednesday morning and two other U.S. soldiers died of wounds suffered in the fighting Tuesday.

Ohio Water Projects OK'd By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — An outlay of $1,598,705,500 for planning and building of water projects by the Army Engineers and recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The money, which would be for use in the year starting July 1, is in a public works appropriation bill sent to the House. The bill includes these items:

Locks and Dam, $9,600,000; Big Darby Creek Reservoir, $1,500,000; Buck Creek Reservoir, $1,650,000; Cleveland Harbor, bridge replacement, widening Cuyahoga and Old Rivers, $300,000; Conneaut Harbor, $2,900,000; Deer Creek Reservoir, $2,300,000; Racine Locks and Dam, $1,000; Lorain Harbor, $2,300,000; Racine Locks and Dam, $10,500,000; West Branch Reservoir, Mahoning River, $2,147,000; Youngstown, Crab Creek $300,000.

Planning—Alum Creek Reservoir, $200,000; Caesar Creek Reservoir, $156,000; East Fork Reservoir, $131,000; Fremont, $160,000; Mill Creek Reservoir, $175,000; Salt Creek Reservoir, $120,000.

Surveys—Cleveland Harbor, drift removal $10,000; Lake Erie coast, Ohio, Pa., and N.Y., $45,000; Maumee River, Ohio and Ind., $22,000; Muskingum River Basin, $100,000; Ohio River Basin review, $330,000.

Methodists OK New School Tax

LAKEVIEW, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church voted overwhelmingly today in favor of the state's spending $119 million a year more on public schools in a "Plan for Educational Progress."

Delegates adopted a resolution urging the Ohio General Assembly to put the plan—called P-E-P, into operation without delay, adopting new taxes if needed, to finance it.

The resolution was presented by the Rev. D. Gerald Lach, pastor of Mount Moriah Church near Wilmington. He headed a committee appointed by last year's conference to study public school education support.

U.S. Navy Jets Down Pair of MIGs in Fight Viet Nam Peace Seen By Course of Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the judgment of U.S. policy makers the prospects for peace in Viet Nam are more likely to be decided by the course of combat over the next several months than by diplomatic maneuvers in this and other world capitals.

Officials say President Johnson is determined to press his peace offensive at every opportunity, even while expanding military operations.

At the moment officials here are looking to a conference of British Commonwealth leaders in London for some possible new move for the negotiations. The Johnson administration will undoubtedly welcome one, if it comes.

Several other peace conference possibilities, arising from proposals made in the past by Britain, India and the United States among others, are still open. The possibility that Johnson might order another pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam is not ruled out, officials say.

But the conviction in high quarters here today is that the Communist North Vietnamese, the Red Chinese and the Red Viet Cong leaders in South Viet Nam still believe they can win the war. They are therefore not interested in negotiations at this time on any terms acceptable to the United States and South Viet Nam.

This conclusion is drawn in a still secret, 13-point paper, summarizing peace moves on Southeast Asia over more than four years. The paper was recently prepared by the State Department for Johnson and lists 13 major types of peace probes and proposals, all of which have faltered or failed.

The basic assessment in Washington of the current Vietnamese situation is that with the recent onset of the monsoon season the Communists decided on major offensive operations in the belief that bad weather would seriously hamper U.S. air actions. The Communists thus would hope to win extensive victories on the ground in South Viet Nam.

The U.S. counter strategy for this period is to convince the Reds that they cannot win in this manner and that the United States will throw into the fight whatever is required to prevent their taking over South Viet Nam. The U.S. hope is that after several months the Communists will be compelled to reassess their position and prospects, perhaps taking a different view of peace negotiations.

Against this background, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced Wednesday that 16,000 to 21,000 more American troops are going into South Viet Nam in the immediate future. They will raise total American strength there to nearly 75,000 men of whom 21,000 will be ground combat personnel. Last week it was disclosed that U.S. troops will fight side by side with South Vietnamese troops when necessary.

The State Department's 13 points on peace negotiations range from direct talks with the Soviet Union and Red China to Johnson's offer last April of "unconditional discussions" to a Canadian approach to North Viet Nam last month. In the last few days the paper has been circulated to U.S. embassies abroad, evidently to arm diplomats with information to counter critics of American policy in Southeast Asia.

Up to 21,000 More GIs Enroute to Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is stepping up its war effort in Viet Nam another notch, with 16,000 to 21,000 more American troops headed for the war zone.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday that nine more Army and Marine combat battalions, with supply and service units "will be in place in a few weeks."

The augmentation of American troop strength, long predicted, was taken at the request of the South Vietnamese government, the defense chief told a news conference. It will bring the total of U.S. troops in Viet Nam to between 70,000 and 75,000, he said.

Will still more go later? McNamara carried that question this way:

"The secretary of state and I and the President have repeatedly said that we will do whatever is necessary to achieve our objective in South Viet Nam, and we won't do more than is necessary."

A week ago, the State Department and White House had versions about whether U.S. troops now could be committed to offensive action, rather than only defensive. The question came up again, in another form, in McNamara's news conference. What is the mission of U.S. ground combat personnel?

McNamara replied that the mission is to protect bases where there are heavy concentrations of aircraft, equipment and personnel, then added, "In addition, if the Vietnamese military commanders request the assistance of U.S. troops, U.S. combat troops, because the Vietnamese lack the necessary reserves to effectively counter Viet Cong attacks, Gen. (William C.) Westmoreland (top American commander) has authority to send our combat troops to the assistance and support of the Vietnamese. If he didn't have that authority, a situation could arise in which very heavy loss of life could occur and in which great advantage could be won by the Viet Cong forces."

The revised total of American military personnel in Viet Nam — Army, Marines, Air Force and Navy — does not include 27,000 aboard ships of the 7th Fleet standing off the mainland. About 21,000 of the new total will be combat ground personnel, McNamara said.

This compares with a present strength of about 54,000.

The difference is equivalent to something more than a full division, which averages about 17,000 men.

But McNamara has given no indication of intending to put one or more complete divisions into Viet Nam at this time.

The procedure so far is to utilize only elements — battalions or smaller — of Army and Marine divisions.

Negroes, GOP Show Gain In Georgia Reapportioning

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans and Negroes have gained their largest representation this century in the Georgia House of Representatives as state voters completed the final stage in House reapportionment.

Although they were soundly beaten in populous Fulton County (Atlanta) in Wednesday's general election, the Republicans won 17 of 47 contested races and now hold 22 of the 205 House seats. They gained 13 over the 1964 House seating, plus two unopposed seats.

Negroes won eight seats, gaining representation in the House for the first time since 1907.

Ninety-four races were settled in primary elections and reapportionment last March under federal court order allowed 64 representatives to retain their seats without running.

After the court ruled the House had to be reapportioned on a population basis, the legislature took away the lopsided rural weight and gave urban areas a greater voice.

The biggest surprise in the election was the victory of a Negro Democrat, attorney Albert W. Thompson, over a white Republican, Dr. I. A. Maxwell Jr., in Muscogee County (Columbus). The county went heavily for Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in the 1964 election.

The county also is in the district of the lone Georgia Republican in the U.S. House, Rep. Howard Callaway. He won a heavy majority there in 1964.

In the only other race where a Negro was facing a white opponent, the Rev. William Holmes Borders, a Negro Republican active in civil rights, was defeated by Democrat Goodwyn Cates in Fulton County.

Battle Lasts 29 Seconds

Air-to-Air Missile Is Yank Weapon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Navy Phantom jets shot down two Communist MIG17 fighters in flames today in a dogfight 50 miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

The clash occurred while the Phantoms were flying escort for other U.S. warplanes bombing targets about 20 miles north of Thanh Hoa.

The spokesman said four Communist jets appeared and turned toward the American planes as if they were going to attack. But apparently they were hit before they had a chance to open fire, he said.

One parachute was seen opening, but it was not known what happened to the Communist pilot. The other two MIGs escaped.

One plane was shot down by Cmdr. Louis C. Page of San Diego, Calif., who told newsmen in Saigon, "This was the first enemy aircraft I have shot down. Other than that, we were just doing a job."

The pilot of the second Phantom, Lt. (j.g.) E. D. Batson Jr. of Buffalo, N.Y., said: "I'm tickled to death."

The spokesman said the dogfight lasted only 29 seconds and that the Phantoms hit the enemy with air-to-air missiles.

It was presumed that the MIGs were North Vietnamese, although Navy planes have had one brush with Communist Chinese MIGs off Hainan Island, in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Phantoms were flying at an altitude between 10,000 and 20,000 feet when they spotted the hostile aircraft.

Page was asked how they knew the MIGs were about to attack.

"If he's in your general area and headed toward you, you have to assume he's up to no good," the pilot replied.

The MIG17 is of Korean War vintage, armed with one 37mm cannon and two 23mm cannon. The Phantom, one of the fastest and most heavily armed fighters in the American arsenal is equipped with heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles which home in on the exhaust trail of enemy jets.

The two pilots flew with their radio intercept officers to Saigon for a news conference. Page's officer was Lt. John C. Smith Jr. of Bellevue, Ill., whose wife and children live in Powan, Calif. Batson's officer was Lt. Cmdr. Robert B. Doremus of Montclair, N.J., whose wife and children live in Wilmington, Del.

Page, who served as spokesman for the group, declined to

Leaf Beetle Quarantine Is Expanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John M. Stackhouse, State Agriculture Director, added 13 counties and parts of seven others to his cereal leaf beetle quarantine Wednesday.

Under the quarantine, small grains, corn, hay, straw and other related crops may not be moved without treatment to kill the beetles.

Newly quarantined counties are: Franklin, Erie, Huron, Richland, Morrow, Delaware, Pickaway, Fayette, Madison, Clark, Miami, Drake, and Preble. Townships placed under the restrictions are: Plain and Clinton, Wayne County; Mifflin, Vermillion, Mohican, Green, Lake and Hanover, Ashland County; Middleburg and Berlin, Knox County; Lima, Harrison and Etna, Licking County; Perry and Richland, Wayne and Wilson, Clinton County, and Oxford, Milford and Wayne, Butler County.

The quarantine extends from those districts to include the northwest part of Ohio.

Flood Pounds Denver Area

Hundreds Homeless In South Suburbs

DENVER (AP) — The worst flood in more than 30 years pounded Denver and communities to the south Wednesday night and today, leaving hundreds homeless, ripping out bridges, and causing millions of dollars in damages.

Most of Denver was without power during the night and early morning as a result of flooding of the huge Public Service Co., power plant.

So far only one death has been reported. A 69-year-old Denver man drowned after returning to his home from which he and his wife were evacuated earlier.

Floodwater roaring out of mountain cloudbursts raced down the South Platte River late Wednesday. The floods struck after tornadoes ripped through Palmer Lake south of Denver and also pounded down in an area southeast of here.

The crest of the South Platte flood struck shortly before midnight. Another crest, three hours later, flattened out before reaching the metropolitan area.

The second crest was reported by the Colorado Highway Patrol to be about 15 feet high — roughly the size of the initial surge — when it reached Waterton, 16 miles above Denver.

Many residents of the Globeville area in North Denver were directed to evacuate their homes shortly before midnight. The city's packing houses and stockyards are located in the vicinity, although apparently high above the water line.

Sheriff Roy Vogt of suburban Arapahoe County said thousands of residents of Littleton and Englewood, Denver suburbs, were evacuated and confirmed that hundreds of homes were flooded as the waters rolled into the populous area. Vogt reported 200 house trailers were lost in one park west of the river at Littleton.

Soft Rush Hour Music Is Urged

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Can rock 'n' roll music on car radios lead to a different kind of rush-hour boy?

It's possible, says John Anello, cultural director for Milwaukee County parks and music director of a local opera company. Anello suggests stations should soothe the driver with soft music.

He said, "When you have music with a certain tempo and certain dissonances and you are irritated with automobile traffic, you may step it up to keep pace with the music. It's amazing how certain pulsations of music affect you."

The spots are confined so far to the east garden. Park Service experts say they are caused by soil-borne fungus. They hope to have it cured soon.

Congress Seeks Excise Tax End At Early Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a compromise bill to repeal most federal excise taxes and lead the way for price cuts on a variety of goods from automobiles to lipsticks.

The House whipped the bill through by voice vote after only a few minutes of discussion. The Senate was to consider it promptly, in a double play designed to allow President Johnson—if he wishes—to put the first reductions into effect by Saturday.

The bill as passed is the result of an agreement Wednesday night between House and Senate conferees. The two houses had passed different versions.

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., one of the principal Senate conferees, said that chamber will act as soon as possible after the House votes.

Such a legislative schedule could send the measure to President Johnson in time for him to sign it Friday, bringing most tax cuts into effect Saturday.

Actually, the initial 3 per cent reduction in the automobile excise — $70 on an average car — and the repeal of the 10 per cent levy on the manufacturer's price on air conditioners are retroactive to May 15. Anyone who purchased such an article on that date or later would be eligible for a refund.

Tax cuts going into effect the day after the President signs the bill include repeal of the 10 per cent retail excise taxes on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage, and of the manufacturer's excise taxes on a variety of goods including appliances, radio and television sets, cameras, business machines, musical instruments and most sporting goods.

Most of the remaining excises, including taxes on theater tickets, cabaret checks and club dues, as well as the stamp taxes on real estate purchases, would go out either next Dec. 31 for an 1.

The conference agreed on a schedule for automobile excise reductions slightly different from either the House or Senate versions, but did not change the provisions for the first 3 per cent cut on which the two chambers had agreed.

Under the compromise bill, the 10 per cent tax would be reduced to 7 per cent retroactive to May 15, 6 per cent effective next Jan. 1, 4 per cent Jan. 1, 1967; 2 per cent Jan. 1, 1968; and 1 per cent Jan. 1, 1969, and thereafter.

Another tax which, under the bill, would be phased out gradually, is the present 10 per cent levy on telephone service. It would be reduced to 3 per cent Jan. 1, then cut by stages to zero by Jan. 1, 1969.

The money, which would be for use in the year starting July 1, is in a public works appropriation bill sent to the House.

The bill includes these items:

Ohio

Dominican Battle Takes Lives of 3 More Yankees

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The toll of American dead in the Dominican Republic has risen to 23 with the announcement that three U.S. paratroopers were killed in shooting this week.

The rebel leader, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, claimed Wednesday that 67 Dominicans were killed and 265 wounded in the heavy firing between U.S. forces and rebel supporters on Tuesday.

The Inter-American Peace Force announced that a U.S. paratrooper was killed Wednesday morning and two other U.S. soldiers died of wounds suffered in the fighting Tuesday.

Caamano gave his report of casualties in the rebel sector at a news conference and accused U.S. troops of committing "an act of genocide without precedent in our country." The previous unofficial count of Dominican casualties was 26 dead and more than 75 wounded.

The rebel leader charged that a Red Cross center in Ozama fortress was "grotesquely bombed" and women and children were killed in the fortress on the west bank of the Ozama River. It faces U.S. positions on the east bank.

Caamano also repeated rebel charges that the U.S. troops opened fire on the rebels.

An OAS spokesman announced that the American troops took 280 prisoners in extending their lines four blocks below the international corridor during the fighting Tuesday.

The Americans pulled back two blocks, but the OAS committee said the other blocks would be held until Caamano gave "satisfactory assurances that this type of violation of the cease-fire resulting in death and injuries to civilian and military personnel, will not occur again."

Presidential Tour in Ohio Is Continuing

CLEVELAND (AP) — The "Ohio Presidential Tour" party led by Gov. James A. Rhodes was to start the final day of its two-day tour of shrines to U.S. Presidents from Ohio today with a stop at the tomb of President James A. Garfield in Lakeview Cemetery here.

Other stops today include Garfield's home in Mentor, a visit to President William McKinley's birthplace in Niles, and a visit to the McKinley State Tomb Memorial, Stark County Historical Center in Canton.

The last visit of the tour will be to President Warren G. Harding's home and tomb in Marion. The party is expected to return to Columbus by 9 o'clock tonight.

Before arriving here Wednesday night, Rhodes' party — including his 15-year-old daughter, Sharon—toured the Rutherford B. Hayes Museum and Library in Fremont.

Wednesday's first stop was Georgetown in Brown County, where President U. S. Grant went to school. The tour then led to Grant's birthplace in Point Pleasant, and then to the birthplace of William Howard Taft in Cincinnati.

If he didn't have that authority, a situation could arise in which very heavy loss of life could occur and in which great advantage could be won by the Viet Cong forces."

The revised total of American military personnel in Viet Nam — Army, Marines, Air Force and Navy — does not include 27,000 aboard ships of the 7th Fleet standing off the mainland. About 21,000 of the new total will be combat ground personnel, McNamara said.

This compares with a present strength of about 54,000.

The difference is equivalent to something more than a full division, which averages about 17,000 men.

But McNamara has given no indication of intending to put one or more complete divisions into Viet Nam at this time.

The procedure so far is to utilize only elements — battalions or smaller — of Army and Marine divisions.

Once Around Roundtown

THE CORNER of Franklin and Court Sts., near the Courthouse, was buzzing with activity this morning.

A swarm of bees settled in a small tree planted in the circle on the Courthouse terrace.

Police Chief Robert Temple directed passersby away from the area until other officers roped off the "danger zone."

Space Fund Given No

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate and House have agreed to authorize expenditure of nearly $5.2 billion on the nation's civilian space program in the year which starts July 1.

Negroes, GOP Show Gain In Georgia Reapportioning

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans and Negroes have gained their largest representation this century in the Georgia House of Representatives as state voters completed the final stage in House reapportionment.

Although they were soundly beaten in populous Fulton County (Atlanta) in Wednesday's general election, the Republicans won 17 of 47 contested races and now hold 22 of the 205 House seats. They gained 13 over the 1964 House seating.

Negroes won eight seats, gaining representation in the House for the first time since 1907.

Ninety-four races were settled in primary elections and reapportionment last March under federal court order allowed 64 representatives to retain their seats without running.

After the court ruled the House had to be reapportioned on a population basis, the legislature took away the lopsided rural weight and gave urban areas a greater voice.

The biggest surprise in the election was the victory of a Negro Democrat, attorney Albert W. Thompson, over a white Republican, Dr. I. A. Maxwell Jr., in Muscogee County (Columbus). The county went heavily for Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in the 1964 election.

The county also is in the district of the lone Georgia Republican in the U.S. House, Rep. Howard Callaway. He won a heavy majority there in 1964.

In the only other race where a Negro was facing a white opponent, the Rev. William Holmes Borders, a Negro Republican active in civil rights, was defeated by Democrat Goodwyn Cates in Fulton County.

Battle Lasts 29 Seconds

Air-to-Air Missile Is Yank Weapon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Navy Phantom jets shot down two Communist MIG17 fighters in flames today in a dogfight 50 miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

The clash occurred while the Phantoms were flying escort for other U.S. warplanes bombing targets about 20 miles north of Thanh Hoa.

The spokesman said four Communist jets appeared and turned toward the American planes as if they were going to attack. But apparently they were hit before they had a chance to open fire, he said.

One parachute was seen opening, but it was not known what happened to the Communist pilot. The other two MIGs escaped.

One plane was shot down by Cmdr. Louis C. Page of San Diego, Calif., who told newsmen in Saigon, "This was the first enemy aircraft I have shot down. Other than that, we were just doing a job."

The pilot of the second Phantom, Lt. (j.g.) E. D. Batson Jr. of Buffalo, N.Y., said: "I'm tickled to death."

The spokesman said the dogfight lasted only 29 seconds and that the Phantoms hit the enemy with air-to-air missiles.

It was presumed that the MIGs were North Vietnamese, although Navy planes have had one brush with Communist Chinese MIGs off Hainan Island, in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Phantoms were flying at an altitude between 10,000 and 20,000 feet when they spotted the hostile aircraft.

Page was asked how they knew the MIGs were about to attack.

"If he's in your general area and headed toward you, you have to assume he's up to no good," the pilot replied.

The MIG17 is of Korean War vintage, armed with one 37mm cannon and two 23mm cannon. The Phantom, one of the fastest and most heavily armed fighters in the American arsenal is equipped with heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles which home in on the exhaust trail of enemy jets.

The two pilots flew with their radio intercept officers to Saigon for a news conference. Page's officer was Lt. John C. Smith Jr. of Bellevue, Ill., whose wife and children live in Powan, Calif. Batson's officer was Lt. Cmdr. Robert B. Doremus of Montclair, N.J., whose wife and children live in Wilmington, Del.

Leaf Beetle Quarantine Is Expanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John M. Stackhouse, State Agriculture Director, added 13 counties and parts of seven others to his cereal leaf beetle quarantine Wednesday.

Under the quarantine, small grains, corn, hay, straw and other related crops may not be moved without treatment to kill the beetles.

Newly quarantined counties are: Franklin, Erie, Huron, Richland, Morrow, Delaware, Pickaway, Fayette, Madison, Clark, Miami, Drake, and Preble. Townships placed under the restrictions are: Plain and Clinton, Wayne County; Mifflin, Vermillion, Mohican, Green, Lake and Hanover, Ashland County; Middleburg and Berlin, Knox County; Lima, Harrison and Etna, Licking County; Perry and Salt Creek, Hocking County; Richland, Wayne and Wilson, Clinton County, and Oxford, Milford and Wayne, Butler County.

The quarantine extends from those districts to include the northwest part of Ohio.

Flood Pounds Denver Area

Hundreds Homeless In South Suburbs

DENVER (AP) — The worst flood in more than 30 years pounded Denver and communities to the south Wednesday night and today, leaving hundreds homeless, ripping out bridges, and causing millions of dollars in damages.

Most of Denver was without power during the night and early morning as a result of flooding of the huge Public Service Co., power plant.

So far only one death has been reported. A 69-year-old Denver man drowned after returning to his home from which he and his wife were evacuated earlier.

Floodwater roaring out of mountain cloudbursts raced down the South Platte River late Wednesday. The floods struck after tornadoes ripped through Palmer Lake south of Denver and also pounded down in an area southeast of here.

The crest of the South Platte flood struck shortly before midnight. Another crest, three hours later, flattened out before reaching the metropolitan area.

The second crest was reported by the Colorado Highway Patrol to be about 15 feet high — roughly the size of the initial surge — when it reached Waterton, 16 miles above Denver.

Many residents of the Globeville area in North Denver were directed to evacuate their homes shortly before midnight. The city's packing houses and stockyards are located in the vicinity, although apparently high above the water line.

Sheriff Roy Vogt of suburban Arapahoe County said thousands of residents of Littleton and Englewood, Denver suburbs, were evacuated and confirmed that hundreds of homes were flooded as the waters rolled into the populous area. Vogt reported 200 house trailers were lost in one park west of the river at Littleton.

Soft Rush Hour Music Is Urged

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Can rock 'n' roll music on car radios lead to a different kind of rush-hour bop?

It's possible, says John Anello, cultural director for Milwaukee County parks and music director of a local opera company. Anello suggests stations should soothe the driver with soft music.

He said, "When you have music with a certain tempo and certain dissonances and you are irritated with automobile traffic, you may step it up to keep pace with the music. It's amazing how certain pulsations of music affect you."

White House Lawn Has Brown Spots, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as you and I, the folks in the White House are having trouble with their grass. It has brown spots.

The spots are confined so far to the east garden.

Park Service experts say they are caused by soil-borne fungus. They hope to have it cured soon.

Board Views Parking Need At Hospital

Reserved parking space for physicians on duty was one of the subjects discussed during last night's regular meeting of Berger Hospital's Board of Governors-Commissioners.
The officials' general opinion was that at least 12 parking spaces are needed for doctors. The importance of having the reserved privileges, especially when physicians are summoned on an emergency basis, was discussed.
The governors indicated the space could be made available at the side and rear hospital areas. They also reviewed the need of uniform parking facilities for other hospital personnel.
In other business, the Berger heads discussed ways and means of improving the hospital's financial picture. A committee currently is exploring approaches to follow.

Stock Prices Plod Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market plugged ahead early this afternoon but the pace of trading was considerably slower than on the previous two days of sharp rallying.
The general pattern was irregularly higher, with gains running from fractions to about a point among key stocks.
The slightly higher trend was evident on balance from the opening. After a period of hesitation, buying pressure distinctly overcame the tendency to sell.

Glowing statements by administration officials about prospects for the economy apparently overcame concern about stepped-up U.S. military commitments in South Viet Nam.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 322.5 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.59 at 883.66.

Many Cuban Women Volunteer for Work

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio says that out of 57,833 Cuban women working on farms in Oriente Province, only 12,270 are paid. The rest are volunteers, the broadcast said.
The figures were released during a meeting of the government-controlled Cuban Womens Federation in Santiago de Cuba and were monitored in Miami Wednesday.

Debt Limit Is Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has given final congressional approval to a bill that raises to $328 billion the legal limit on the national debt in the year that starts July 1.

Sales, Motor Tax Receipts Show Increase

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County for the two-week period ending June 12 were nearly three times greater than collections for the same period one year ago, according to a report from John D. Herbert, state treasurer.
Collections for the two-week period just ended were $21,664.21. One year ago collections were $7,327.94.
The total for the year is now $307,351.75 with only two weeks remaining in the fiscal year. Last year collections at this time were $281,260.10.
Motor vehicle tax collections for the year are $255,983.05 compared to $230,212.44 last year.
Receipts for the two-week period just ended were $10,744.61.

Battle Lasts

discuss the tactics used in shooting down the MIGs.
Page also declined to say whether the missiles used were Sidewinders or Sparrows. The Phantom carries both.
He said he assumed the MIGs were North Vietnamese. The four enemy planes were silver and bore the yellow and red insignia of North Viet Nam, he said.
U.S. airmen attacking North Viet Nam last reported spotting hostile planes June 1, while bombing an ammunition dump 45 miles southwest of Hanoi. Eight MIG fighters appeared but wheeled away when the American planes started to close in on them.
On April 4, Communist MIGs shot down two U.S. F105's on a bombing raid about 65 miles south of Hanoi. A pilot of an American F100 said he believed he hit one of the MIGs in that engagement and downed it.
On April 4, four MIG17s jumped four U.S. Navy F4B planes in the Gulf of Tonkin off Red China's Hainan Island, and U.S. officials said one MIG was reported downed.
Page and Batson were flying from the carrier Midway. News of their success was flashed to Washington and U.S. Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze radioed back congratulations "on the splashing of the first and second North Viet Nam MIGs."
A U.S. military spokesman explained that the MIG which the Navy pilot reported hitting off Hainan on April 4 was listed as a probable kill because it had only been seen to disappear into a cloud trailing smoke.
The MIGs reportedly were in a "loose trail" formation, and the two missiles from the two Phantoms hit the second and third planes in the formation.
The enemy planes were headed south, apparently trying to intercept a force of Navy fighter-bombers attacking a bridge near Thanh Hoa and the Yen Phu barracks. Other U.S. planes were attacking road traffic in the area.
The protective Phantoms normally fly some distance north of the bombers to stop any MIGs that may be sent down from the direction of Hanoi.
U.S. spokesmen said five buildings in the Yen Phu barracks area were destroyed. It has been attacked repeatedly in the past week.
It was a day of fairly heavy air strikes over North Viet Nam.
Some 70 planes, including seven Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers, attacked a variety of targets, and spokesmen said all planes returned safely to their bases.
Heavy air strikes by U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps planes along with Vietnamese fighters also were made against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, spokesmen said.

Collision Causes Slight Injury

A passenger was slightly injured in a two-car collision at 7:26 p. m. yesterday at Ohio and Clinton Sts.
Referred to a physician for treatment of a left leg injury was Linda Calvert, 16, of 1010 Georgia Road. She was a passenger in a car driven by Dwight Wilson, 17, of 423 S. Court St.
The other auto was driven by William Hoffman, 17, of 458 Dearborn Ave. Officers said he was cited for failure to yield the right of way.
The cars collided in the intersection. Patrolmen said both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Investigators Mum On Cincinnati Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP)—Greenhills officials said Wednesday night they will keep secret a coroner's investigation of the two-year-old unsolved murder of Patricia Rebholz.
John Baldwin, police chief of the suburb, said he would not have any comment. He said it was a private communication between investigative agencies "and not a public record."
Patricia, 15-year-old cheerleader, was slain in 1963 as she walked home from a dance. The investigation was reopened recently by the coroner's office.

Building Code Discussed at PCCA Meet

Members of the Pickaway County Contractors Assn. met last night at The Carriage House for a continued study of a city building code.
On hand to answer questions were the chief building inspector for Ohio, Mr. Daubemire, and E. R. Rauber, a building code specialist employed by the Portland Cement Co.
Following the dinner session, a roundtable discussion was led by the Chief Inspector Daubemire and Rauber. Representing Circleville Council was Joe Bell.
Also attending were Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe and Richard Penn, local attorney who has been employed to draft a code for Circleville.
Robert Kenworthy, president of the contractor organization, conducted the meeting.

THE DRAFT being prepared by Penn is modeled after the Columbus Building Code. Indications are the code will be readied and presented to council for action in the near future.
Approximately 25 members of the group participated in a lively discussion of codes. Questions were answered by the guests concerning code operation, the advantages to contractors and to property owners.
Kenworthy noted the PCCA will be celebrating its first anniversary next month. Organized last July, he said, the group has taken giant steps forward in the community's welfare.

The building code being sponsored by the organization represents the largest undertaking to date.
Contractors and Penn will meet with councilmen 8 p. m. Tuesday at City Hall for a review of the local version.

City Police Hold Suspect

Charles F. Zickafoose, 43, Route 1, Chillicothe, is being held by city police concerning an alleged entry and robbery attempt at the home of Rance Arledge, 143 Cottage Hill.
Another man supposedly involved is still being sought by police.
Arledge told officers a man entered his house Tuesday night, shoved him and demanded his money. He said the intruder looked through his billfold, but found no cash.
According to Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Leonard Sines, Zickafoose and the other man were caught a few minutes later by William Hoop and a neighbor. However, one of the subjects jumped from the car and escaped.
Hoop held Zickafoose until policemen arrived. Officers said entry to the house apparently was gained by reaching through a broken window and unlocking the door.

Brewery Aides Shun Wage Hike

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—About 200 workers of the Iroquois division of the International Breweries have decided to "help the company get back on its feet" by foregoing wage increases.

Officials of the brewery workers, mechanical department and bottlers and truck drivers locals said members have ratified a three-year contract. The contracts, however, permit wage negotiations in the second and third years, they said.

International Breweries reported a net loss in 1964 of $655,843.

Board Views Parking Need At Hospital

Reserved parking space for physicians on duty was one of the subjects discussed during last night's regular meeting of Berger Hospital's Board of Governors-Commissioners.

The officials' general opinion was that at least 12 parking spaces are needed for doctors. The importance of having the reserved privileges, especially when physicians are summoned on an emergency basis, was discussed.

The governors indicated the space could be made available at the side and rear hospital areas. They also reviewed the need of uniform parking facilities for other hospital personnel.

In other business, the Berger heads discussed ways and means of improving the hospital's financial picture. A committee currently is exploring approaches to follow.

THE monthly statistical report showed that the hospital's percentage of occupancy for May was 57.50. The average daily adult census was 29.7.

Other statistics for May were: 76 emergency room visits; 371 inpatient operations; 6 outpatient operations; 407 outpatient visits to lab and x-ray; 783 outpatient visits; 75 anesthetics.

Births for the month numbered 47. This makes a total of 194 for the year to date.

Collision Causes Slight Injury

A passenger was slightly injured in a two-car collision at 7:26 p. m. yesterday at Ohio and Clinton Sts.

Referred to a physician for treatment of a left leg injury was Linda Calvert, 16, of 1010 Georgia Road. She was a passenger in a car driven by Dwight Wilson, 17, of 423 S. Court St.

The other auto was driven by William Hoffman, 17, of 458 Dearborn Ave. Officers said he was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

The cars collided in the intersection. Patrolmen said both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Investigators Mum On Cincinnati Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Greenhills officials said Wednesday night they will keep secret a coroner's investigation of the two-year-old unsolved murder of Patricia Rehholz.

John Baldwin, police chief of the suburb, said he would not have any comment. He said it was a private communication between investigative agencies "and not a public record."

Patricia, 15-year-old cheerleader, was slain in 1963 as she walked home from a dance. The investigation was reopened recently by the coroner's office.

Memorial Service Set

Memorial services will be conducted 8 p. m. today at the Mader Funeral Home by Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, for member Azel Laughlin who died Tuesday night.

Lodge members are requested to meet at the funeral home prior to the services.

Sales, Motor Tax Receipts Show Increase

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County for the two-week period ending June 12 were nearly three times greater than collections for the same period one year ago, according to a report from John D. Herbert, state treasurer.

Collections for the two-week period just ended were $21,664.-21. One year ago collections were $7,327.94.

The total for the year is now $307,351.75 with only two weeks remaining in the fiscal year. Last year collections at this time were $281,260.10.

Motor vehicle tax collections for the year are $255,983.05 compared to $230,212.44 last year. Receipts for the two-week period just ended were $10,744.61.

discuss the tactics used in shooting down the MIGs.

Page also declined to say whether the missiles used were Sidewinders or Sparrows. The Phantom carries both.

He said he assumed the MIGs were North Vietnamese. The four enemy planes were silver and bore the yellow and red insignia of North Viet Nam, he said.

U.S. airmen attacking North Viet Nam last reported spotting hostile planes June 1, while bombing an ammunition dump 45 miles southwest of Hanoi. Eight MIG fighters appeared but wheeled away when the American planes started to close in on them.

On April 4, Communist MIGs shot down two U.S. F105's on a bombing raid about 65 miles south of Hanoi. A pilot of an American F100 said he believed he hit one of the MIGs in that engagement and downed it.

On April 4, four MIG17s jumped four U.S. Navy F4B planes in the Gulf of Tonkin off Red China's Hainan Island, and U.S. officials said one MIG was reported downed.

Page and Batson were flying from the carrier Midway. News of their success was flashed to Washington and U.S. Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze radioed back congratulations "on the splashing of the first and second North Viet Nam MIGs."

A U.S. military spokesman explained that the MIG which the Navy pilot reported hitting off Hanoi on April 4 was listed as a probable kill because it had only been seen to disappear into a cloud trailing smoke.

The MIGs reportedly were in a "loose trail" formation, and the two missiles from the two Phantoms hit the second and third planes in the formation.

The enemy planes were headed south, apparently trying to intercept a force of Navy fighter-bombers attacking a bridge near Thanh Hoa and the Yen Phu barracks. Other U.S. planes were attacking road traffic in the area.

The protective Phantoms normally fly some distance north of the bombers to stop any MIGs that may be sent down from the direction of Hanoi.

U.S. spokesmen said five buildings in the Yen Phu barracks area were destroyed. It has been attacked repeatedly in the past week.

It was a day of fairly heavy air strikes over North Viet Nam.

Some 70 planes, including seven Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers, attacked a variety of targets, and spokesmen said all planes returned safely to their bases.

Heavy air strikes by U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps planes along with Vietnamese fighters also were made against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam, spokesmen said.

Building Code Discussed at PCCA Meet

Members of the Pickaway County Contractors Assn. met last night at The Carriage House for a continued study of a city building code.

On hand to answer questions were the chief building inspector for Ohio, Mr. Daubemire, and E. R. Rauber, a building code specialist employed by the Portland Cement Co.

Following the dinner session, a roundtable discussion was led by the Chief Inspector Daubemire and Rauber. Representing Circleville Council was Joe Bell.

Also attending were Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe and Richard Penn, local attorney who has been employed to draft a code for Circleville.

Robert Kenworthy, president of the contractor organization, conducted the meeting.

THE DRAFT being prepared by Penn is modeled after the Columbus Building Code. Indications are the code will be readied and presented to council for action in the near future.

Approximately 25 members of the group participated in a lively discussion of codes. Questions were answered by the guests concerning code operation, the advantages to contractors and to property owners.

Kenworthy noted the PCCA will be celebrating its first anniversary next month. Organized last July, he said, the group has taken giant steps forward in the community's welfare.

The building code being sponsored by the organization represents the largest undertaking to date.

Contractors and Penn will meet with councilmen 8 p. m. Tuesday at City Hall for a review of the local version.

City Police Hold Suspect

Charles F. Zickafoose, 43, Route 1, Chillicothe, is being held by city police concerning an alleged entry and robbery attempt at the home of Rance Arledge, 143 Cottage Hill.

Another man supposedly involved is still being sought by police.

Arledge told officers a man entered his house Tuesday night, shoved him and demanded his money. He said the intruder looked through his billfold, but found no cash.

According to Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Leonard Sines, Zickafoose and the other man were caught a few minutes later by William Hoop and a neighbor. However, one of the subjects jumped from the car and escaped.

Hoop held Zickafoose until policemen arrived. Officers said entry to the house apparently was gained by reaching through a broken window and unlocking the door.

Brewery Aides Shun Wage Hike

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — About 200 workers of the Iroquois division of the International Breweries have decided to "help the company get back on its feet" by foregoing wage increases.

Officials of the brewery workers, mechanical department and bottlers and truck drivers locals said members have ratified a three-year contract. The contracts, however, permit wage negotiations in the second and third years, they said.

International Breweries reported a net loss in 1964 of $655,843.

Gemini Program Ahead of Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Office of Manned Space Flight says the Gemini space program is ahead of schedule. But he said it is too early to say if the date for a landing on the moon can be moved up from the late 1969 target.

Dr. George E. Mueller, who is also associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, noted that the 4-day Gemini 4 mission just concluded had originally been scheduled for the third quarter of the year.

He also said the United States has a long way to go before it can safely say it is ahead of the Soviet Union in space research.

$2.1 Million Available for College Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new effort to help poor but potentially brilliant students reach college was announced yesterday by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

It will contribute $2,194,640 to 16 colleges for the summer program, in which 2,370 students will be enrolled.

OEO director Sargent Shriver said the program is designed to cut what he called "America's greatest waste — the loss of skill and exceptional minds of those young people who are capable of going to college, but cannot do so because of the psychological, social and physical conditions of poverty."

The summer programs are expected to point the way toward year-round courses needed to prepare low-income youngsters for college admission. The efforts would be coordinated with other parts of what the administration calls its war on poverty.

A special committee of educators, headed by Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, former secretary of welfare in the Cabinet of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will help organize a broad long-range program. Committee members will be named later. The program follows efforts tested last year when a number of colleges planned special programs with financial help from the Carnegie Foundation.

Air Lines are annually spending $30 million in gifts and gimmicks, known as "passenger service items," to make sky trips more pleasant and comfortable for their customers, it's revealed. For the skyriding public we'd say that's living high.

One air line alone in a single year has given away 12,300 bassinets, 66,000 diapers, 12,000 jars of baby food. All for the rising generation!

The same air line dished out 81,000 pounds of hard candy. How sweet that was!

Two white whales, being shipped from Canada to England, became ill during the boat trip and it was quite some time before their ailment could be diagnosed — and no wonder! The monsters of the briny deep had become seasick!

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a student in high school. I use eye makeup and eye liner. Ever once in a while my eyes swell up and become itchy. It doesn't happen to the other girls. Is there something wrong with my skin?

Miss P.H., Georgia

Dear Miss H.: My first and immediate reaction to your question is to ask one of my own. Why do young adolescents use eye shadow, eye liners and other devices that mask the loveliness of their youthful skin?

The premature overuse of makeup does not automatically bring with it the sophistication that teenagers so urgently seek.

Now, about your swollen eyes. You seem to be allergic to the ingredients in that particular product. The other girls in your class do not have similar eye symptoms because they are not allergic to the makeup.

Allergic reactions of the tissue around the eyes are not dangerous. The swelling, itching, redness and discomfort will disappear if the eye makeup is discontinued.

For some strange reason this similar reaction around the eyes can occur rather frequently as a result of allergic sensitivity to the lacquers of hair spray and fingernail polish.

There are some non-allergic cosmetic products which seem to be inoffensive even to sensitive skin.

Antihistamine drugs are used to reduce the discomfort of a sudden allergic attack.

The pupil of my right eye sometimes become larger than my left. I wear bifocal glasses. My eye doctor says I have a mild astigmatism, and that I have nothing to worry about. Is such a condition dangerous? Can I be going blind?

Mr. D. M., Virginia

Dear Mr. M.: The opening and closing of the pupils of the eyes depend on the amount of light that shines into them. The pupils react to light by closing. In a darkened room the pupils open wide. The entire mechanism is a very delicate one and depends on the tiny nerves that open and close them.

Very often, there is an important imbalance of the size of the pupils without any reason. This condition, as in your case, is obviously not dangerous and can not result in blindness.

If there were any cause for concern your doctor would not have tried to assure you that there was nothing to worry about. If he thought the condition important there would be very intensive studies made to rule out every possible cause.

When a patient's anxiety about a condition mounts there is need for an additional consultation with his doctor. The benefits are great when there is a psychological "booster shot," that the patient's fears are unwarranted.

IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT, PICKAWAY COUNTY OHIO

No. 24091

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Donna Jean Smith, Plaintiff

vs. Paul J. Smith, et al., Defendants.

In pursuance of an Order of Sale in partition issued out of the Common Pleas Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, wherein Donna Jean Smith is plaintiff and Paul J. Smith et al., are defendants, and being Cause No. 24091 in said Court, I will offer at public sale at the door of the Courthouse, on Tuesday, the 29th day of June, 1965, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., the following described real estate, situated in the County of Pickaway, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Scioto, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

FIRST TRACT: Beginning at a point in the center of the Darbyville and Commercial Point Turnpike, fifteen links from a stone in the west side of said pike; thence N. 1 degree E. 44 poles and 11 links to a stake in the center of said pike; thence N. 87 degrees W. with a line of the school lot 18 poles to a stake; thence N. 1 degree E. 8 poles and 12 links to a stake and last oak in the road; thence with said road N. 87 degrees W. 16 poles and 18 links to a large oak; thence S. 15 degrees E. 21 poles and 15 links to a stone; thence S. 87 degrees E. 21 poles and 13 links to the beginning, containing 6 and 96-100 (6 acres and 151 poles) acres of land. Being a part of Lot No. 3 of subdivision of the farm of David Grabbill, deceased.

SECOND TRACT: Beginning at a stone in the center of the Darbyville and Commercial Point Turnpike; thence N. 89 degrees W. 18 poles to a stake in a line of A. R. Yeakum's 32 acres; thence S. 1 degree W. 8 poles and 23 links to a stake; thence S. 89 degrees W. 18 poles to a stake 10 links from the center of said pike; thence with said pike N. 8 poles and 23 links to the beginning, containing one acre. Being a part of Survey No. 5684. Being the same property conveyed by the Board of Education of Scioto Township to Rilla J. Dennis by Deed dated March 3, 1919.

Being the same premises conveyed to Donna Jean Smith and Paul J. Smith by Deed dated May 15, 1961, and recorded in Deed Book 169, page 280 of the Deed records of Pickaway County, Ohio.

Said premises are appraised at Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000) and must be sold for not less than two-thirds (2/3) of the appraised value.

TERMS OF SALE: Ten per cent (10 per cent) of the purchase price to be paid to the Sheriff immediately upon the sale and the balance of the purchase price to be paid to the Sheriff upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and the delivery of the Deed.

DWIGHT RADCLIFF, Sheriff of Pickaway County, Ohio.

WHEN A RACING greyhound develops bad habits, asserts veteran dog trainer, F. B. Stutz, they're usually impossible to correct. He cites the case of an exceptionally fleet greyhound named Terris Foot, who ran in hurdle races and invariably outran the field until the final jump—where he always fell down. His handler decided to enter him in a flat race. Terris Foot went right on jumping and when he reached the spot where the non-existent hurdle would have been—he fell down!

In Dan Greenberg's light-hearted novel, "How to Be a Jewish Mother," he tells how said mother identified Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung: "A lot of improperly cooked vegetables and God knows what kind of meat. We order only the plain rice with a little sauce."

OVERHEARD: Dame Edith Evans, still a brilliant and constantly employed actress at the age of 78: "To stay young, all you have to do is live right, eat right, sleep right, work right—and lie about your age."

At a ladies' bridge tournament: "I had a date last night with the world's stingiest man." "Oh! So you're the woman who's been running around with my husband!"

June 26 is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The anniversary day comes at a time when the UN has never been more powerless to affect the behavior of nations. The UN General Assembly met this year without ever daring to put anything to a vote, lest Soviet Russia, which has refused to pay its share of the bill for past "peace-keeping" operations, should be forced by the regulations either to pay up or be deprived of participation in Assembly decisions. What this means is that the UN has no way of forcing its members to obey its own internal rules. How, then, can it make its writ effective in the world at large?

The answer is that UN peace-keeping has always been at the mercy of chance. The one important UN action, which was taken in Korea in 1950 after a Communist army had invaded South Korea from the north, came at a time when the Soviet Union had absented itself from the Security Council and so failed to use its veto. The UN has had a couple of successes in preventing conflagrations in the Middle East, and it achieved a most dubious victory in the Congo by driving Moise Tshombe out of his home province of Katanga. But this just about completes the record of the UN's peace-keeping accomplishments.

Meanwhile, terrible things have happened while the representatives of 100-odd nations talked and talked in the glass house hard by the waters of Manhattan's East River. Khrushchev's tanks rumbled into Hungary in 1956 and the UN did nothing. When Nehru, supposedly one of the UN's true believers, sent Indian troops into Portuguese Goa, there wasn't a peep out of the glass house. The Soviets moved their missiles into Cuba, and it took the eye-ball-to-eye-ball action of President Kennedy to do anything about that. It was suggested at the time that the UN provide inspection inside Cuba to see that the missile sites had really been dismantled, but we are still waiting for that to happen. And now, as the tempo of warfare rises in Vietnam, and the OAS takes the play away from the UN in the Dominican Republic, the UN's Thant wrings his hands and bemoans his lack of power to do anything.

When the speechmakers converge on San Francisco a few days from now to celebrate the UN's twentieth anniversary, they will no doubt pay pious tribute to the world organization as "the last best hope." And, in so doing, they will be helping to perpetuate an illusion that has ruined the teaching of political science in the United States. For a generation now American students in high school and college have been led to believe that the peace of the world can be kept by machinery, or by gimmicks, not by the will of statesmen to deploy power to the ends of making war unprofitable. Our people have had their eyes diverted from realities, and, like all dreamwalkers, they have not been able to act responsibly when confronted with crises.

This does not mean that the UN is useless. The business of making your diplomacy stick, and of balancing the power, is a matter of convincing others, and the UN offers a forum that can be just as useful as the old meetings of plenipotentiaries. But the point is that the UN is merely a place for a meeting of the powers, not a power in itself. The great disservice that all the professional "friends of the UN" have done is to confuse the categories. The school children whom they herd through the gates of the UN to tell them about "world government" grow up with mush in place of brains.

A lot of things will be said at San Francisco on June 26. But will anyone have the courage to come up with one honest speech?

WHEN A RACING greyhound develops bad habits, asserts veteran dog trainer, F. B. Stutz, they're usually impossible to correct. He cites the case of an exceptionally fleet greyhound named Terris Foot, who ran in hurdle races and invariably outran the field until the final jump—where he always fell down. His handler decided to enter him in a flat race. Terris Foot went right on jumping and when he reached the spot where the non-existent hurdle would have been—he fell down!

In Dan Greenberg's light-hearted novel, "How to Be a Jewish Mother," he tells how said mother identified Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung: "A lot of improperly cooked vegetables and God knows what kind of meat. We order only the plain rice with a little sauce."

OVERHEARD:

Dame Edith Evans, still a brilliant and constantly employed actress at the age of 78: "To stay young, all you have to do is live right, eat right, sleep right, work right—and lie about your age."

At a ladies' bridge tournament: "I had a date last night with the world's stingiest man." "Oh! So you're the woman who's been running around with my husband!"

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The annual meeting of the Pickaway County Chapter of American Red Cross was to be held at the Wardell Party Home.

Many Pickaway County homemakers planned to attend the fifth annual "homemaker's Short Course" at Ohio State University.

Mrs. John Beougher was honored at a stork shower held in the home of Betty Arledge, 318 Abernathy Ave.

TEN YEARS AGO

A late afternoon shower caused postponement of the Mosquito, Pony and Junior League games at Ted Lewis Park.

It was announced that construction of new semi-work facilities at the DuPont Company's Circleville film plant was to begin this month.

Mrs. F. A. Cryder, 120 N. Washington St., returned home after spending a year in Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, Fla.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Ashville Methodist Church invited ladies of all churches to attend the Telephone Flour Baking School and Luncheon in the Methodist Church basement.

A meeting to consider possibilities for installation of a locker refrigeration system for Pickaway County farmers was to be held at the Farm Bureau office.

An immense crowd estimated by Circleville police as the largest in Circleville this year milled through downtown streets Saturday night and kept two patrolmen directing traffic until late at night.

June 26 is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The anniversary day comes at a time when the UN has never been more powerless to affect the behavior of nations. The UN General Assembly met this year without ever daring to put anything to a vote, lest Soviet Russia, which has refused to pay its share of the bill for past "peace-keeping" operations, should be forced by the regulations either to pay up or be deprived of participation in Assembly decisions. What this means is that the UN has no way of forcing its members to obey its own internal rules. How, then, can it make its writ effective in the world at large?

The answer is that UN peace-keeping has always been at the mercy of chance. The one important UN action, which was taken in Korea in 1950 after a Communist army had invaded South Korea from the north, came at a time when the Soviet Union had absented itself from the Security Council and so failed to use its veto. The UN has had a couple of successes in preventing conflagrations in the Middle East, and it achieved a most dubious victory in the Congo by driving Moise Tshombe out of his home province of Katanga. But this just about completes the record of the UN's peace-keeping accomplishments.

Meanwhile, terrible things have happened while the representatives of 100-odd nations talked and talked in the glass house hard by the waters of Manhattan's East River. Khrushchev's tanks rumbled into Hungary in 1956 and the UN did nothing. When Nehru, supposedly one of the UN's true believers, sent Indian troops into Portuguese Goa, there wasn't a peep out of the glass house. The Soviets moved their missiles into Cuba, and it took the eye-ball-to-eye-ball action of President Kennedy to do anything about that. It was suggested at the time that the UN provide inspection inside Cuba to see that the missile sites had really been dismantled, but we are still waiting for that to happen. And now, as the tempo of warfare rises in Vietnam, and the OAS takes the play away from the UN in the Dominican Republic, the UN's Thant wrings his hands and bemoans his lack of power to do anything.

When the speechmakers converge on San Francisco a few days from now to celebrate the UN's twentieth anniversary, they will no doubt pay pious tribute to the world organization as "the last best hope." And, in so doing, they will be helping to perpetuate an illusion that has ruined the teaching of political science in the United States. For a generation now American students in high school and college have been led to believe that the peace of the world can be kept by machinery, or by gimmicks, not by the will of statesmen to deploy power to the ends of making war unprofitable. Our people have had their eyes diverted from realities, and, like all dreamwalkers, they have not been able to act responsibly when confronted with crises.

This does not mean that the UN is useless. The business of making your diplomacy stick, and of balancing the power, is a matter of convincing others, and the UN offers a forum that can be just as useful as the old meetings of plenipotentiaries. But the point is that the UN is merely a place for a meeting of the powers, not a power in itself. The great disservice that all the professional "friends of the UN" have done is to confuse the categories. The school children whom they herd through the gates of the UN to tell them about "world government" grow up with mush in place of brains.

A lot of things will be said at San Francisco on June 26. But will anyone have the courage to come up with one honest speech?

Viet Nam Peace Drive Is Pushed

The document does not say with whom the United States would be prepared to negotiate, if and when peace talks can be arranged. Washington officials say privately, however, that the U.S. peace target, like its war target, is North Viet Nam, and they assume negotiations would be conducted primarily with that country and Red China.

They say the United States and South Viet Nam do not intend to negotiate directly with the "National Liberation Front"—the Communist Political arm in South Viet Nam. But the United States would not object if "National Liberation Front" leaders were part of the North Vietnamese negotiating team.

Here is a summary of the 13 points covered in the 11-page State Department review of peace efforts so far:

1. The United States has held many talks on Southeast Asian problems with the Soviet Union including the conference at Vienna in June 1961 between President John F. Kennedy and the Soviet Premier at that time, Nikita S. Khrushchev. The United States hoped that the result of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement on Laos (a neighbor of Viet Nam) would be the neutralization of that country, but the Communist Pathet Lao backed and supported by North Viet Nam frustrated that hope.
- The United States has also held a long series of talks with Red China at the ambassadorial level in Warsaw, Poland. These talks have shown the United States that Red China is not interested in any Southeast Asian settlement except one which would result in the ouster of U.S. influence from the area.
2. A 14-nation, East-West conference at Geneva in 1961-62 agreed to neutralize Laos. In line with the agreement the United States withdrew all its military advisory personnel from Laos. But Communist North Viet Nam failed to withdraw several thousand troops supporting the Pathet Lao. North Viet Nam also violated the agreement by infiltrating guerrilla fighters into South Viet Nam through jungle trails in neighboring Laos.
3. After Communist military gains in Laos in early 1964, neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma called for consultations among the Geneva conference powers. The United States took part but the Communist nations refused. Souvanna Phouma's initiative was followed by proposals for meetings of various combinations of Communist and non-Communist countries concerned with the Lao crisis. Communist China and North Viet Nam blocked these moves and also prevented an International Control Commission composed of India, Canada, and Poland from carrying effective investigations in Communist-held territory in Laos. The United States still favors a new Geneva conference on Laos if the Communists will first demonstrate by action that a conference could produce results in pacifying the country.
4. Britain proposed to the Soviet Union last February a conference on the future of the International Control Commission in Laos be held by members of the commission, plus the British, Soviet and Laotian governments. Such a conference could be widened to include North and South Viet Nam, Red China and the United States with the possibility of informal Vietnamese discussions. The Soviet Union has so far not responded to the British proposal.
5. In February 1964 Cambodia called for a four-power conference on its own neutrality and security, with Thailand, South Viet Nam, Cambodia and the United States participating. The United States and South Viet Nam replied favorably, but in March Cambodian leader Prince Norodom Sihanouk withdrew the proposal. This move was followed by other Cambodian conference proposals, with the United States generally favorable to a meeting. Such a conference, it was felt, could lead to talks on Viet Nam if Communist powers were included. A dispute arose, however, over whether South Viet Nam should be included, and Red China declared that only the "National Liberation Front" could speak for South Viet Nam.

6. Last August when U.S. ships were fired on in the Gulf of Tonkin off the Vietnamese coast, the United States carried its dispute with North Viet Nam to the United Nations Security Council. Both Communist China and North Viet Nam took the position that the Security Council had no competence in the Vietnamese crisis. In April this year Red China and North Viet Nam both rebuffed U. N. Secretary-General U Thant when he showed interest in visiting Peking and Hanoi for talks on Viet Nam.
7. Last Feb. 20 Britain with U.S. support proposed a British-Soviet exploration of the possible basis of a Vietnamese settlement. The Soviets, evidently under Red Chinese and North Vietnamese pressure, declined.
8. Ex-British Foreign Minister Patrick Gordon Walker visited South Viet Nam, Cambodia, Laos, Thailand and Burma in April to explore a possible Vietnamese settlement. He wanted to go to Red China and North Viet Nam but they declined to receive him.
9. On April 7, Johnson announced that the United States was prepared to engage in Vietnamese peace talks "unconditionally." Red China and North Viet Nam denounced his offer as a hoax.
10. On April 8 the United States agreed to a proposal by 17 non-aligned nations for peace talks without preconditions. Red China and North Viet Nam rejected the proposal.
11. The Indian government has proposed cessation of hostilities in Viet Nam with boundaries to be policed by an Afro-Asian patrol force. The United States termed the proposition interesting and promised careful consideration. It is still discussing the proposal with the Indian government. Red China and North Viet Nam rejected the proposal.
12. The United States suspended bombing attacks on North Viet Nam May 13-17 (Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada and others he called for a pause in the air strikes to promote possible negotiations). The North Vietnamese news agency denounced the suspension as a "trick of deceit and threat." The Red Chinese news agency called it "a peace swindle."
13. A Canadian representative went to Hanoi to discuss the

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) —Some senators and representatives will now knock their heads together over foreign aid. Out of this may come something more imaginative and practical than this country has seen in years.

Except for its part in World War I, and some spurts afterwards, this country stuck to its ancient isolationism until, for sheer survival, early in 1941 it began helping the foes of fascism with lend-lease.

This truly got it involved in World War II and before the year was out the United States was all the way in.

President Harry S. Truman ended lend-lease right after the war but this was a mistake. It deprived Europe and Asia of much-needed help when nations there were flat on their backs.

The United States extended various kinds of help but in 1948 set forth on a worldwide program of help. Altogether since the war this country has handed out over $100 billion in foreign economic and military aid.

Undoubtedly this blood transfusion, plus American military might, stopped the march of communism to which chaos and poverty are a "come on in" sign. But as the years passed there was growing American discontent about this aid.

It wasn't always successful, as Viet Nam shows.

Starting there more than 15 years ago, when the French were fighting the Vietnamese Communists, this country has put about $5 billion in economic and military aid into the country. And the result isn't pretty.

The guerrillas and Communists there are stronger than ever.

Out of all this foreign aid, unmatched in the history of the world, the United States threw off its isolation and at once became the leader of the non-Communist part of the earth.

But — the United States is a scene with perhaps no more than 25 years of experience in deep involvement with countries everywhere.

In short, it still has a lot to learn when compared with the British and French who were up to their international necks for centuries.

So, because it is just a beginner with no more than a quarter of a century in disturbing aid, it would seem time for a good, stiff look on how it has been doing and where it is going in this field.

The Senate thinks so. When it passed the foreign aid authorization bill this week it proposed ending the program in its present form in two years, with a 16 - member special commission created to investigate the program and make recommendations on future aid.

This is a combination of self-examination and inventory. But the House, which passed its own version of the foreign aid bill earlier, didn't go for the soul-searching the Senate suggests.

Before that can happen the House will have to agree to the Senate idea. It may not. The two houses have some other differences which they must compromise before the foreign aid bill gets final approval.

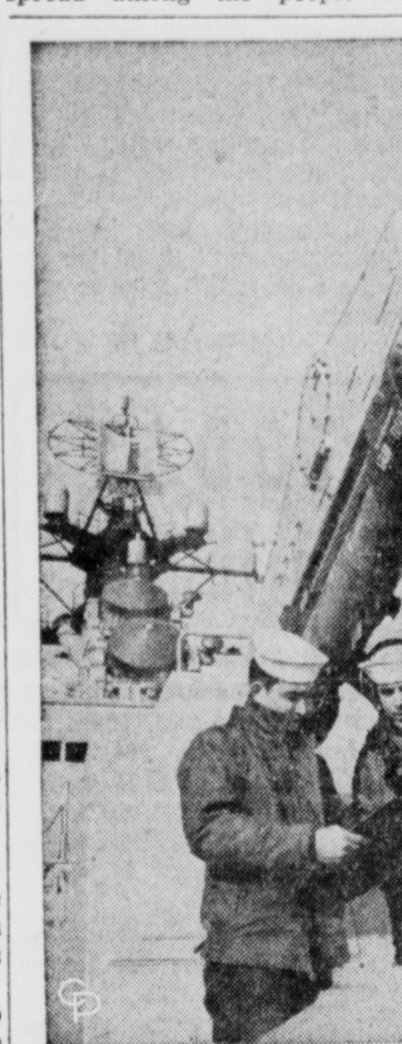

One thing which seems necessary, even if the commission proposal is abandoned, is more certainty that U.S. aid will be spread among the people of backward countries to improve their lives and give them a reason for being non-Communist rather than the other way around.

If the United States had taken a lot tougher policy with its aid to Viet Nam — insisting long ago upon broad programs of help to the masses of Vietnamese villagers whose life expectancies are only half that of Americans — the Communists might not have made the progress in Viet Nam they did.

Sooner or later the foreign aid program is going to have to be re-examined. A number of senators feel that way, particularly the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat.

For instance, several months ago he said, "Where we have given the most aid, we have inspired the most antagonism." He named France as one example and Egypt as another.

Sooner or later the foreign aid program is going to have to be re-examined. A number of senators feel that way, particularly the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat.

For instance, several months ago he said, "Where we have given the most aid, we have inspired the most antagonism." He named France as one example and Egypt as another.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT AND ANTISUBMARINE—The Navy's new combination of ASROC (antisubmarine rocket) and Terrier supersonic guided missile weapons systems is providing a double punch aboard a new class of ships (DLG-26). The combination is made possible by modification of the ASROC missile to fit on the Terrier missile launcher. Crewmen with the launcher aboard the USS Belknap are Gunner's Mate Missile Seamen Robert C. Snow (left) and Seamen Richard H. Fortier, Tiverton, R.I. ASROC portion of the system was developed by California Ordnance Center of Honeywell, Inc.

5 Elyria Boy, 14, Killed In Shotgun Accident

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old Elyria boy was killed Wednesday by a shotgun blast in the chest. Sheriff's deputies said the victim, Daniel Dittmer, was shot accidentally at a service station at Ohio 254 and Elyria Avenue here. They said another boy, employed at the station, was examining a 16-gauge shotgun when the gun discharged. Deputies said the youth told them he didn't know the gun was loaded.

Even the most expensive watch can't keep time as precisely as Accutron. That's because all the mechanical parts that make a conventional watch fast or slow have been left out of it. The Accutron movement is electronic. It's powered by a battery that keeps a tiny tuning fork vibrating 360 times a second, and it comes with the first guarantee of accuracy ever given. (You might like to know that the U.S. uses Accutron movements in satellites and issued them to all X-15 pilots.) You can't give a man a more perfect gift of time.

AMERICAN IS MONK—Eighteen months ago William Robert Stevens (above), 20, Sacramento, Calif., and five fellow graduates of the McClatchy High School in Sacramento, set out to see the world. In India he became interested in Buddhism. Last March he entered a temple in Bangkok, Thailand, as a novice, and three weeks later he became a full-fledged monk. The photo was made in Bangkok.

Glee Club Highlights Altar Society Program

A highlight of the program for the meeting of the Altar Society of St. Joseph Church Wednesday evening was the presentation of the initial performance of a girls' glee club composed of 14 elementary school girls and directed by Mrs. Harry Montavon.

Mrs. Gerald Kraus served as pianist for the group, which presented three numbers. Sue Ann Elliott was soloist for the evening.

The performance by this beginners group was enjoyed by 90 members and guests of the society. Mrs. Montavon stated that her class is a group of young people interested in singing and that she stresses voice training developed through the use of glee club material.

A business session was conducted by Miss Margaret Goode who introduced the new pastor of St. Joseph Church, the Very Rev. Msgr. Joseph E. McGlynn. Installation of officers for the coming year was conducted by Mrs. Margaret Shadley and Mrs. Myron Schelb, past presidents of the society. Those installed were: Mrs. John Barry, president; Mrs. Charles Greene, vice president; Mrs. John Lake, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Wavering, treasurer.

Mrs. Barry presented the standing committees and spoke briefly on plans for the year's activities. Following the business session, Mrs. George Hamrick presented the Rev. Fr. John Marquis, assistant pastor, who spoke on the lives of St. John the Baptist and St. Anthony of Padua, whose feast days are celebrated during June.

Guests at the meeting were the 1965 high school girl graduates who are members of the parish. Honored were: Joanne Courtright, Margaret Davis, Madelyn Forquer, Mary Lou Good, Rose Marino, Marie Montgomery, Kathy O'Brien, Kathleen Owens, Pamela Speicher, Jane Tarbill, Barbara Boyd, Sharon May, Patricia Minor, Julie Sanscrainte and Patricia Schuer. Mrs. William Payter and Mrs. William Prather served as co-chairmen of the hostess committee.

Pickaway Plains Chapter, DAR, Holds Installation

Mrs. William R. Kramer, Chillicothe, Southeast District Director for the Ohio Society was the installing officer Tuesday when Mrs. Judd H. Dresbach became new regent for Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The luncheon meeting, held at the Pickaway Arms, was under the direction of the retiring regent Mrs. Clarence McAbee. Others installed were Mrs. Richard Hedges, vice regent; Mrs. Stanley Bowers, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul Counts, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Bowers, treasurer; Mrs. Daniel Eitel, chaplain; Mrs. R. R. Bales, registrar; Mrs. Russell McDill, librarian; Mrs. Leora Sayre, historian.

Mrs. McAbee announced that gravemarkers will be dedicated June 25. Those planning to participate are instructed to meet at Forest Cemetery at 2 p. m.

Guests for the meeting included members of Nathaniel Masie Chapter of Chillicothe and the Washington Court House Chapter. Music for the program was presented by Lorna Poling and Janie Wright who sang several numbers with guitar accompaniment.

A paper, "Patriotic Symbols of the United States" written by Virginia B. Johnson was read by Mrs. Sterling Poling. The symbols as described by the author are "the vision of liberty — the flag; the light of liberty — the statue; the sound of liberty — the liberty bell; and the basis of all true liberty — the cross."

The history of each symbol was told beginning with the flag made at Fort Stanwix in 1777 from "Miss Tilden's red petticoat, I. Swarthout's new blue cloak, and a white shirt — truly a flag of the people — made from their very apparel."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Chairman of Bored Needed

DEAR ABBY: Six girls in our office go to coffee together twice a day. One girl (I'll call her Trudy) has been having trouble with her husband and for the past year every coffee break has been devoted to listening to Trudy run him down. She says he needs a psychiatrist, is involved with a married woman, etc. She asks us for advice, but never takes it. She continues to live with him and complains daily. At first we were all very sympathetic to Trudy, but our patience has run out and we would like to talk about something else for a change. How can we let her know without hurting her feelings that we are bored with her domestic affairs?

THE OTHER FIVE
DEAR FIVE: Get together and appoint the girl who is closest to Trudy as "Chairman of the Bored." She should tell Trudy privately that the other girls deserve a break with their coffee, and she should lay off the subject. Trudy should also be advised to take her problem to her clergyman or a marriage counselor is she seriously wants to resolve them. Some people don't really want to DO anything about their problems. They just enjoy talking about them. Trudy could be one, so don't delay.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my father. He isn't mean to us kids or anything, but as soon as school is out for summer vacation, he takes all us boys down town to the barbershop and has our heads shaved. I am 13 years old now and I would like to have some hair over the summer. How old do you think a boy should be for his father to stop doing this?

SHAVED
DEAR SHAVED: As soon as a boy is old enough to complain out of vanity, his father should discontinue the practice.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the man who complained about his wife being too fat. He said this was the reason for many marriage breakups. I want to set him straight. He's lucky he's never had to live with a woman who constantly lives and talks diets. And in order to keep herself thin she starves, and so does her poor husband. Women like her are always crabby and irritable. THEY cause more marriage break-ups than fat women. I know because I almost lost a good husband trying to diet myself into a size 12. I woke up just in time to save my marriage. Ten years ago I weighed 115. Now I'm —

"158" and HAPPY

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the writer who signed herself "Disgusted" because her daughter-in-law's baby still had a bottle at 13 months: She must be more concerned about appearances than what the child actually needs. It seems to be "in" to have your child more "grown up" than someone else's. Many children give up the bottle at 9 months or younger. But some need it when they are 18 months and older. Most will give it up of their own accord.

I am the mother of four and each was different. In other countries babies often nurse until they're two years old and suffer no ill effects. Children suck because they need to. Take the bottle away too soon and they'll find something else to suck — thumbs, toys, blankets. Tell "Disgusted" to let the baby be a baby. It'll grow up soon enough.

Of the statue of liberty the author told of its creation by Bartholdi and quoted from President Grover Cleveland who in his speech of acceptance said, "We will not forget that liberty has here made her home; nor shall her chosen altar be neglected."

Mrs. Poling read the story of how the original liberty bell ordered from England cracked and was recast to crack again several years later as it tolled at the time of the death of Chief Justice John Marshall. While the author wrote that she did not believe the cross to be a patriotic symbol she included it because "it is the real basis of all our freedom."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Ben Nothstine, Mrs. Paul Matheas, Miss Margaret Dunlap, Miss Eliza Plum, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, Mrs. George Bowling and Mrs. Robert Wallace.

Pickaway Grange Report

SALT CREEK VALLEY
Saltcreek Valley Grange met in regular session, June 15 at Saltcreek School.

A decision was made to continue cooperation with the Demonstration Awards at The Junior Fair. A contribution was made to Volunteer Service Council of Columbus State Hospital to help patients attend The State Fair.

An announcement was made of the County-wide Grange Picnic, 1 p. m. July 11, at Tar Hollow State Park. This event is sponsored by The Grange Youth. A special feature will be the selection of the county representative for the Prince and Princess contest at the State Convention. Carol DeLong was selected as the candidate from Saltcreek Valley.

The Worthy Master Russell Miller appointed the following committee for the County Fair booth exhibit: Edgar DeLong,

Mrs. Russell Wolfe, Mrs. Fred DeLong, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Russell Miller, and Wayne Luckhart.

Wayne Cryder, legislative agent, reviewed legislative news with emphasis on the defeat of Issue 3 at the May Election at which 80 per cent of eligible voters did not vote.

"Patriotism and Respect for the Flag" was the subject of the opening remarks by the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Miller. A reading was given by Elaine Judy. "Summer Holidays" was the piano duet by Paul Dunkle and Carl Dean Jr. All present cooperated in singing several popular numbers.

The concluding program number was "Guides are the Friendliest People", a dramatic reading by Paul Dunkle.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeLong and Carol DeLong and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maxson.

Injured Man Denied Right To Sue Wife

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Back in 1959, Mrs. Vivian Lyons accidentally pinned her husband John, between their car and another in Findlay and he sued her for damages.

The Ohio Supreme Court held unanimously today that the injured husband could not maintain the suit against his wife. The decision affirmed Hancock County Common Pleas Court which ruled in favor of Mrs. Lyons. An appellate court reversed the trial court but, in turn, was reversed by the high court.

"A spouse may not maintain an action against the other spouse for personal injuries resulting from negligence of the other spouse where the parties are married and living together as husband and wife at the time of the alleged injury," the Supreme Court said.

Both live in Arizona, records show.

Social Security Finance Change Is Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has voted an important financing change in the Social Security health care bill which would boost taxes somewhat for higher income families.

But, under the amendment, families with incomes below the level of about $5,600 a year would pay less.

The amendment would increase the wage base on which Social Security taxes are paid to $6,600 next year instead of the present $4,800.

Under the House-passed bill, the base would go to $5,600 next year and then be increased to $6,600 in 1971.

Under the Senate committee version, the new tax rates would be reduced somewhat below the level of the House bill so as to bring in about the same amount of revenue next year as the House financing plan would provide.

Assembly Gives Its Attention To Major Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Major bills on "fair housing", welfare and state universities have taken big strides forward in one of the fastest-moving sessions of the 106th Ohio General Assembly.

The Senate voted at a marathon session Wednesday to ban racial discrimination in housing and to clear the way for new state universities in Toledo, Dayton, and Akron.

Representatives passed and sent to the Senate an omnibus bill placing public assistance programs in the hands of counties. They also approved a state-wide pension program for police and firemen.

Senate passage of the "fair housing" bill came after unsuccessful attempts by Republicans to weaken it and a futile bid by Democrats to give it more teeth.

As finally passed by a 22-10 vote, the compromise measure was exactly the same one recommended for passage by the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee following weeks of stormy hearings.

The measure, which now goes to the House, would make it unlawful to:

Discriminate in the financing of housing.

Discriminate in the advertising for sale or rental of housing.

Discriminate in the sale or rental of housing with exemptions provided for owner-occupied dwellings of four units or less.

Sen. Charles W. Whalen Jr., R-Montgomery, sponsor of the bill and chairman of the committee which recommended its passage conceded that "perhaps the bill doesn't go far enough" but added that he regards it as the strongest with a chance of becoming law.

Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, offered 16 amendments in a two-hour effort to weaken the measure but was defeated on roll call votes by Whalen and all 16 Democrats in the evenly divided Senate. All of Hoffman's amendments sought to protect the rights of persons charged with violating the proposed law, he said.

On the bill vote, six Republicans joined Democrats and all 10 negative votes were cast by GOP senators. The only person who took the floor to urge defeat of the bill was Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen.

He asserted passage would cause Negroes "to be resented more than ever" and bring charges from citizens, "whether right or wrong, that we have destroyed the value of their property."

The Senate gave unanimous approval to measures that would create Wright Brothers State University near Dayton, effective July 1, 1967, and transfer the municipal universities of Toledo and Akron to the state.

Sponsors of the Toledo and Akron bills explained that acquisition by the state would be subject to negotiations between trustees of those schools and the Ohio Board of Regents.

Senators approved an amendment suggested by the Regents under which all three universi-

Corn Virus Check Up Under Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A field survey of the maize disease of corn called "Maize Dwarf Mosaic" is under way throughout the state.

Three specialists have been hired to take part in the joint survey being conducted through Sept. 15 by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster; The Cooperative Extension Service of Ohio State's College of Agriculture, and the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

Agricultur Director John M. Stackhouse said M. T. Vermilion, professor of biology, Ohio University; Bruce May and Don Manning, graduate students in agriculture at Ohio State University are in charge of the field survey.

Objectives of the study will be to pinpoint those spots where the disease is occurring; indicate time when symptoms are first observed in a given location; identify those crops where symptoms are observed; determine what virus or viruses are present; learn if numerous insects are present, and estimate extent of damage.

The disease, first observed in Ohio in 1962, damaged an estimated five million bushels of corn in 1964. Most serious losses have been in the southern counties, but traces of the virus are spread over much of the state.

River Basin Projects Get Fund Okay

Appropriations have been approved for construction work on Deer Creek and Big Dary Reservoirs, according to Congressman William H. Harsha, Ohio 6th District.

Harsha also announced that he has been successful in having the House Committee on Appropriations approve funds to initiate planning for Mill Creek Reservoir. This is in addition to funds approved for advance engineering and design for Alum Creek, Salt Creek, Caesar Creek and East Fork Reservoirs.

Earlier this year, Harsha had testified before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works in behalf of the funds for these flood control and multiple purpose reservoirs affecting the economic welfare of the 6th District.

While the appropriations must receive final approval by the House of Representatives and Senate, the action of the House Appropriations Committee practically assures the allocation of funds for these projects backed diligently by Congressman Harsha.

THE 6th District lawmaker stated that construction of these projects would do much toward relieving unemployment, stimulating economic growth and alleviating the substantial and persistent labor market in the area — plus provide vitally needed flood control, water supply and recreational facilities.

Harsha added that, with the approval of funds for Mill Creek Reservoir, this brings all of the Ohio projects for the development of the Ohio River Basin recommended by the Corps of Engineers to some phase of construction.

Opening of bids for construction of the proposed Deer Creek Dam at Crownover Mill, originally scheduled this week, has been postponed until Monday. Clearing of some land at the project site supposedly is under way.

Pickaway Grange Report

SALT CREEK VALLEY
Salt Creek Valley Grange met in regular session, June 15 at Salt Creek School.

A decision was made to continue cooperation with the Demonstration Awards at The Junior Fair. A contribution was made to Volunteer Service Council of Columbus State Hospital to help patients attend The State Fair.

An announcement was made of the County-wide Grange Picnic, 1 p. m. July 11, at Tar Hollow State Park. This event is sponsored by The Grange Youth. A special feature will be the selection of the county representative for the Prince and Princess contest at the State Convention. Carol DeLong was selected as the candidate from Salt Creek Valley.

The Worthy Master Russell Miller appointed the following committee for the County Fair booth exhibit: Edgar DeLong,

Mrs. Russell Wolfe, Mrs. Fred DeLong, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Russell Miller, and Wayne Luckhart.

Wayne Cryder, legislative agent, reviewed legislative news with emphasis on the defeat of Issue 3 at the May Election at which 80 per cent of eligible voters did not vote.

"Patriotism and Respect for the Flag" was the subject of the opening remarks by the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Miller. A reading was given by Elaine Judy. "Summer Holidays" was the piano duet by Paul Dunkle and Carl Dean Jr. All present cooperated in singing several popular numbers.

The concluding program number was "Guides are the Friendliest People", a dramatic reading by Paul Dunkle.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeLong and Carol DeLong and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maxson.

BACKYARD GARDEN — Busy Ann Hoyt takes time out to weed the flower bed that encircles the young apple tree in her new dooryard garden. Mt. Logan towers in the distance. The garden is just off the kitchen and is a haven of tranquility for this young family.

Mt. Logan Easily Visible From Hoyt Dooryard Spot

The garden editor strayed over into Ross County recently to visit a "sure nuff" New England dooryard garden at the Joe Hoyt farm seven miles west of Chillicothe on the Greenfield Pike.

Now Mrs. Hoyt, who hails from Massachusetts, doesn't call it a dooryard garden. She calls it "the backyard." But the little well-groomed garden does seem New England in feeling and it's just off the kitchen. It blends with the rambling old frame house, part of which is a log cabin and was built in the 1700s.

The garden is neat and nicely designed. There's an old pump near the door and by it is a geranium-filled iron rendering kettle. Boundaries on a couple of sides are a white board fence and the house forms the background on the other sides.

Corners are planted and narrow flower borders encircle the garden. It's a peaceful, restful spot with bucket lawn chairs. And there's a delightful panorama of Ohio farmland and wooded areas stretching out for miles. Mount Logan and its companion hills may be seen in the background.

THE HOYT farm is a big one with considerable agricultural operations going full speed ahead. It's a place where kids and dogs and horses and farm livestock mingle happily. At the time I visited the garden everything was tranquil. The Great Dane ambled out to greet us. Mrs. Hoyt says she is a pleasant pet that takes life easy and is perfectly welcome in the house. She has just passed her puppyhood and will be having her first litter — Mrs. Hoyt hopes.

Ann Hoyt says local gardeners have warned her about azaleas not thriving in this area. And what does she do? She orders 24 young azaleas planted in the garden.

Back east azaleas are plentiful and she loves them. What's more she's going to give them careful attention. And this year, their first, they bloomed beautifully. Right now they are foot high pounds of green.

Tall hedge has been planted against one wing of the house. And a wisteria vine is being trained against the house near the kitchen. In one corner leathery leafed viburnums are getting a start. In front of them a young apple tree is growing. This tree will have five different kinds of apples. All the borders are mulched with shredded tree bark.

A few perennials are in evidence, columbines and painted daisies. Pink petunias are used as an edging.

ON THE other side of the white fence there's a jagged locust tree with a young locust growing right up through its center. Ann says there are those who want to cut this tree down. But she loves it. It looks, she says, like a giant driftwood arrangement.

The Hoyts' front yard is big and shady with a lot of turf area to maintain. Trees grow in abundance there. Incidentally, the Hoyts have a big elm that is, at the moment, untroubled by the disease which is taking its toll of our Ohio elms.

Just as I was leaving young Nelson Hoyt toddled around the corner with the babysitter. The two older boys, Eric and Cash, came in from school in Chillicothe with their dad. The German shepherd bounded out to greet them. It was time for Betsy, the Hoyts' daughter, to awaken.

In short, the peace and tranquility of the beautifully planned and executed dooryard garden was about to be superseded by the lively goings-on of the Hoyt family.

I did see the library before I left. It is in the low ceiling log cabin part of the house. There's a big fireplace and hand hewn beams. The decor is Early American at its best.

The enormous and attractive farm kitchen was planned and worked out in detail by Ann Hoyt. Little by little she will plan and work on other projects at the farm. But none can be more successful than the little dooryard garden with its magnificent view.

Loving Cup Is Won by Mrs. Shaw

Mrs. Richard Shaw, 568 N. Pickaway St., entered her first big Columbus Rose Show and came out with several important ribbons and a trophy. The show was June 6 at Whetstone Park.

Mrs. Shaw's White Queen won first place in the white class. She won third place in the pink blend class on her Kordes Perfecta and a first place in the class for three blooms, blend of many varieties. She won a third in the Peace class.

She was awarded a second place on a class for three blooms of different color. The roses she entered in this class were White Queen, Kordes Perfecta and Americana.

Mrs. Shaw was given a trophy of silver for the three Peace blooms she entered in the novice division.

In the Pickaway County Garden Club Show, Mrs. Shaw won second on her red Pinnocchio in the floribunda class. She won third on Royal Highness in the hybrid tea class and third on Queen Elizabeth in the grandiflora class.

Judges expressed high praise for Mrs. William Radcliff's herb exhibit at the Pickaway County Garden Club flower show.

Mrs. Radcliff had tiny sandwiches made of herb bread and herb seasoned filling. This was in addition to her grown herbs.

The attractive exhibit so pleased the judges that they awarded Mrs. Radcliff a blue ribbon even though the display was non-competitive.

On a long table covered with a checkered cloth, Mrs. Radcliff had assembled growing herbs, dried herbs and herbs in containers ready to use as flavoring. She had a framed chart on the wall with names and uses of many different types.

SHE HAD a loaf of herb bread on an old board with an ancient bread knife. And she had the delicious sandwiches!

As decoration she used blooming pink geraniums in an earthenware container. There also were an old wooden vinegar bottle and many bottled herb vinegars.

The display impressed, delighted and charmed the judges — so much so that the exhibitor has a blue ribbon — only rarely given in non-competitive classes.

Workshop Due Oct. 14

The Columbus Regional Council, Garden Club of Ohio has announced a one-day workshop on Home Gardening and Landscaping for Oct. 14. It will be open to the public.

Instructors will be Dr. L. C. Chadwick and Dr. Kenneth W. Reich, both members of the staff of the department of floriculture and ornamental horticulture at Ohio State University. Mrs. Ned Harden of Circleville is a member of the directing committee.

The workshop will be held in the basement assembly room of the Worthington Methodist Church, 600 High St., Worthington.

Registration will be from 8:30 to 9 a. m. The program will start at 9 a. m. sharp. Registration fee will be five dollars if paid before Oct. 1 and nine and a half dollars thereafter.

All checks should be made payable to Garden Club of Ohio Inc. Send them to the treasurer, Mrs. Richard S. Bowman, 3419 Clearview Ave., Columbus.

Garden Gossip

We saw Mrs. Joe Goeller out picking bright red roses from a trellis just before Decoration Day when the weather turned so cool. She was attired in a bright red jacket with a bright red hood. It made a very pretty picture — one that would have been suitable for the cover of a garden magazine.

Dr. Robert McCoy has Hawaiian lamps, tall ones, that he sticks into the ground for garden barbecues. They keep the "sneakers" away. Mrs. McCoy thinks they would also discourage flies. They are very attractive.

Whenever I see meadow-rue foliage and roses in a combination I always think that Mrs. M. E. Noggle made the arrangement. The Noggles have gorgeous roses. Meadow-rue is rarely grown in local gardens. There was such an arrangement on one of the tables at Phyllis McCoard's rehearsal dinner. I guessed that Myrtle Noggle had made it. It seems to me that Phyllis was one of her girl scouts.

Speaking of gorgeous roses, Tom Downing was telling me that they had enjoyed their roses very much this season. He added that a great many people had splendid roses this year.

Roses are not easy to grow and the garden editor is indeed impressed with the number of persons who are growing them well.

Ruth Montelius of Pioneer Acres says she fertilizes her roses heavily and gives them plenty of water. Dr. Pavy, the Xenia rosarian, told her not to be afraid of fertilizing too heavily. She is careful, however, not to let it touch the foliage.

Mrs. Richard Shaw, 568 N. Pickaway St., was well pleased with the prizes she earned at the Columbus Rose Club Show. She was a bit rueful about her ribbons a few days later at the Pickaway County Garden Club Flower show. She said, "After all, what can you expect from a dozen rose bushes?" She says she just used all her roses up in the first show. Mrs. Shaw says her plants grow right beside the door and demand her constant attention.

It looked so natural to see Polly Measamer at the door of the Pickaway County Garden Club Flower Show that for an instant we forgot she lived in Luxembourg. She's back in the States attending the commencement exercises at Dennison University. Her daughter, Kathy, was graduated there this year.

Everybody had a grand good time at Solagua Garden Club's annual rose breakfast. It was held again this year at Prairie Lanes. This has come to be a much looked forward to event in a gardener's calendar.

It was sort of like singing at my own wedding when I entered an exhibit in the flower show class named the Elizabeth Jones Garden Page. There were a great many mass arrangements in this class and I was most pleased.

Mrs. Turney Pontius had a most handsome plant bloom in her garden this year. It was a Wedgewood blue Salvia, also called Meadow Sage or Clary. Mrs. Pontius says it came from the garden of Mrs. Clyde Hoover north of Circleville on Route 23. It is pictured in Wayside Garden catalog under the name of Salvia Haematodes, Vatican Variety. It is grown extensively in the Vatican gardens in Rome.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh brought a beautiful and rare flower for exhibit at the flower show. It was a cluster of bell shaped flowers in a rich purple. We identified it as one of the campanulas. Mrs. Young had brought it to the Methodist Church in an arrangement.

Mrs. Richard Ice, N. Pickaway St., has had good results with her climbing strawberries this spring. They are climbing and producing, which is all one could ask of a climbing strawberry. I planned to take a picture of it Friday, but did not get to town. She will have eaten the strawberries by the time I get there.

I'm quite late with my garden this year, but I did some last minute splurging on pink petunias. It came about this way: my sister-in-law, Dorothy Jones, sent me a five dollar bill, along with a message. She wanted to know if I remembered the beaded buckles I brought her from Paris. An antique dealer had been going through her button box and came across the pink and white beaded buckles. The dealer had snatched at them and gave Dorothy $5 which she sent to me. Sure enough, I was in Paris once and brought the buckles back for my college roommate's dancing slippers. And that's how come I splurged on last minute petunias.

I was hard up for blue flowers at flower show time. But I found plenty along the railroad track on Western Avenue between W. High and W. Main. They are corn flowers and they grow in profusion there each season at show time.

Women Certified As Show Judges

Several Central Ohio women, including five from Circleville and nearby areas, have received certificates as nationally accredited judges for flower shows.

Certified from this area are Mrs. John Eshelman and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Circleville; Mrs. Theodore Huston, Stoutsville; Mrs. Howard Junk, Washington C. H.; and Mrs. Albert McIlvaine, Frankfurt.

Certificates are issued by the National Council of State Garden Clubs after three years of intensive training by specialists in horticulture, flower arranging and flower show practice. Students meet exacting requirements in exhibition procedure and in work as student judges before becoming full accredited.

The school for judges, sponsored by Garden Club of Ohio, Inc., under the direction of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, was the second such school to be held in Columbus.

Monrovia's 'Dig In' at Fairgrounds

For the fourth year Monrovia Garden Club has planted a large area along the side of the Grange - 4-H building at the Fairgrounds.

In 1962 the club initiated a permanent planting of evergreens and shrubs, filling in the front with blooming annuals. In 1963 and 1964 a group of 4-H girls thought they needed a community project and asked the club to share the planting with them.

Since working with juniors is a part of garden club programs, the women were happy to do so. This year the girls decided they no longer wanted to participate so the "old pros" took over again.

Mrs. John Dick, Mrs. Bruce Cochran, Mrs. Shirley Anderson, Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mrs. Lewis Seymour and Mrs. Charles A. Fleming, president of the club, gathered up hoes, shovels, watering cans and buckets and went to work.

When they had finished, they had planted four dozen blue salvia, six dozen sovereign marigolds, four dozen climax marigolds, seven dozen midjet blue ageratum, nine dozen floral carpet snaps, six dozen panama mixed snaps, two yellow petite marigolds, and nineteen dozen petunias, including the varieties crusader, pink satin, Comanche, cherry tart and prima donna.

All Lines Must Curve in True Free Form Art

Exhibitors were informed at the Pickaway County Garden Club flower show that in a class for free form arrangements, only one actually conformed to the schedule.

When the garden editor buttonholed a judge to find out just why the exhibits were not considered free form, the judge sat down to explain. Generally, here is how the conversation went:

A free form arrangement is one outside the traditional forms. If it were made to conform to a triangle, Hogarth, vertical or crescent then it is not free form.

The use of the untraditional curve is paramount in the free form. All lines must have curves, even the lines of the container. If a container is a cylinder this makes it improper for use in a free form arrangement.

If a flower with a straight stem is featured, the straight line of the stem keeps it from being a true free form.

A free form arrangement is always to be viewed from all sides. In other words a free form arrangement is always a free standing arrangement.

There may be abstract free forms. And there may be free form abstracts. And these may be excellent arrangements and worthy of high honors.

However, if the schedule calls for free form, exhibitors should not include abstracted material. "Stick to the schedule and you will be safe," is the last bit of advice.

Apricot Nectar Floribunda Earns All-America Honors

For the ninth time an E. S. Boerner floribunda rose has been selected for All-America honors.

It is Apricot Nectar, a large flowered floribunda with a delightful old fashioned rose fragrance.

Apricot Nectar is a direct descendant of Spartan — but its flowers are larger and are produced in greater profusion. Each bud is a gentle apricot which lightens slightly as the flower opens. The final shade remains with the bloom until the last petal drops.

Buds are firm and open into graceful flowers with swirling, frilled petals. Individual blossoms are from 4 3/5 to 5 inches across and keep well when cut for indoor use.

The disease resistant foliage is a rich dark green and clothes the plant from the ground up. Plants may be expected to reach a height of three feet. A hardy plant, Apricot Nectar adds to the vigor of Spartan, large hybrid tea shaped flowers that not only appear in great abundance but keep coming on throughout the season.

Consensus of independent rose testers throughout the country is a comment from Reading, Pa., — "Finest floribunda I have seen in 30 years. Very fruity scent, flower large and high centered; comes back fast."

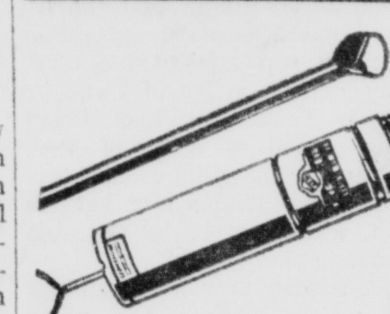

Plant research director and treasurer for the Jackson & Perkins Co., Boerner has won 11 All - America awards. Two were hybrid teas: Katherine T. Marshall, 1944, and Diamond Jubilee, 1948. Among his previous eight floribunda winners were: Saratoga, 1964; Ivory Fashion, 1959; Gold Cup, 1958; White Bouquet, 1957; Jimmy Cricket, 1955; Ma Perkins, 1939; Vogue, 1952, and Fashion, 1950.

Because of the above and his other hybridizing efforts Boerner has been cited by the American Rose Society, the Men's Garden Clubs of America, the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, the American Horticultural Council and the New York State Nurserymen's Assn.

At the show sponsored by Solagua Garden Club held June 4 at Prairie Lanes Miss Montelius won first on her three hybrid teas, Mirandy, Kordes Perfecta, and Royal Highness. She won first on three Peace roses and first in the floribunda class.

At the Columbus Rose Show held at Whetstone Park she won first on Aztec and third on Swarthmore. At the Central Ohio Rose Show held in Columbus her Swarthmore won second award and King's Ransom won third place.

At the Pickaway County Garden Club Flower Show she won first on her Peace and first on Aztec. She was given the award of Merit for the Aztec.

BACKYARD GARDEN — Busy Ann Hoyt takes time out to weed the flower bed that encircles the young apple tree in her new dooryard garden. Mt. Logan towers in the distance. The garden is just off the kitchen and is a haven of tranquility for this young family.

Mt. Logan Easily Visible From Hoyt Dooryard Spot

The garden editor strayed over into Ross County recently to visit a "sure nuff" New England dooryard garden at the Joe Hoyt farm seven miles west of Chillicothe on the Greenfield Pike.

Now Mrs. Hoyt, who hails from Massachusetts, doesn't call it a dooryard garden. She calls it "the backyard." But the little well-groomed garden does seem New England in feeling and it's just off the kitchen. It blends with the rambling old frame house, part of which is a log cabin and was built in the 1700s.

The garden is neat and nicely designed. There's an old pump near the door and by it is a geranium-filled iron rendering kettle. Boundaries on a couple of sides are a white board fence and the house forms the background on the other sides.

Corners are planted and narrow flower borders encircle the garden. It's a peaceful, restful spot with bucket lawn chairs. And there's a delightful panorama of Ohio farmland and wooded areas stretching out for miles. Mount Logan and its companion hills may be seen in the background.

THE HOYT farm is a big one with considerable agricultural operations going full speed ahead. It's a place where kids and dogs and horses and farm livestock mingle happily.

At the time I visited the garden everything was tranquil. The Great Dane ambled out to greet us. Mrs. Hoyt says she is a pleasant pet that takes life easy and is perfectly welcome in the house. She has just passed her puppyhood and will be having her first litter — Mrs. Hoyt hopes.

Ann Hoyt says local gardeners have warned her about azaleas not thriving in this area. And what does she do? She orders 24 young azaleas planted in the garden.

Back east azaleas are plentiful and she loves them. What's more she's going to give them careful attention. And this year, their first, they bloomed beautifully. Right now they are foot high pounds of green.

Tall hedge has been planted against one wing of the house. And a wisteria vine is being trained against the house near the kitchen. In one corner leather leaved viburnums are getting a start. In front of them a young apple tree is growing. This tree will have five different kinds of apples. All the borders are mulched with shredded tree bark.

A few perennials are in evidence, columbines and painted daisies. Pink petunias are used as an edging.

ON THE other side of the white fence there's a jagged locust tree with a young locust growing right up through its center. Ann says there are those who want to cut this tree down. But she loves it. It looks, she says, like a giant driftwood arrangement.

The Hoyts' front yard is big and shady with a lot of turf area to maintain. Trees grow in abundance there. Incidentally, the Hoyts have a big elm that is, at the moment, untroubled by the disease which is taking its toll of our Ohio elms.

Just as I was leaving young Nelson Hoyt toddled around the corner with the babysitter. The two older boys, Eric and Cash, came in from school in Chillicothe with their dad. The German shepherd bounded out to greet them. It was time for Betsy, the Hoyts' daughter, to awaken.

In short, the peace and tranquility of the beautifully planned and executed dooryard garden was about to be superseded by the lively goings-on of the Hoyt family.

I did see the library before I left. It is in the low ceiling log cabin part of the house. There's a big fireplace and hand hewn beams. The decor is Early American at its best.

The enormous and attractive farm kitchen was planned and worked out in detail by Ann Hoyt. Little by little she will plan and work on other projects at the farm. But none can be more successful than the little dooryard garden with its magnificent view.

Loving Cup Is Won by Mrs. Shaw

Mrs. Richard Shaw, 568 N. Pickaway St., entered her first big Columbus Rose Show and came out with several important ribbons and a trophy. The show was June 6 at Whetstone Park.

Mrs. Shaw's White Queen won first place in the white class. She won third place in the pink blend class on her Korde's Perfecta and a first place in the class for three blooms, blend of same variety. She won a third in the Peace class.

She was awarded a second place on a class for three blooms of different color. The roses she entered in this class were White Queen, Korde's Perfecta and Americana.

Mrs. Shaw was given a trophy of silver for the three Peace blooms she entered in the novice division.

In the Pickaway County Garden Club Show, Mrs. Shaw won second on her red Pinnocchio in the floribunda class. She won third on Royal Highness in the hybrid tea class and third on Queen Elizabeth in the grandiflora class.

Herb Exhibit Is Praised By Judges

Judges expressed high praise for Mrs. William Radcliff's herb exhibit at the Pickaway County Garden Club flower show.

Ohio Tribunal OKs Study of Incrimination

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court agreed today to determine whether the state constitution conflicts with the federal Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination.

The agreement came on an appeal by Lindsay Reed from his Hamilton County conviction on a charge of armed robbery.

At the Common Pleas Court trial, the prosecutor commented strongly on Reed's failure to testify.

Article 1 Section 10 of the Ohio Constitution reads:

"No person shall be compelled in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself. But his failure to testify may be considered by the court and jury and may be the subject of comment by counsel."

Last April, the U. S. Supreme Court reversed the first degree murder conviction of Eddie Dean Griffin in California on grounds that the prosecution's comment on Griffin's failure to testify violated the self-incrimination clause of the Fifth Amendment.

In Ohio, Reed was convicted after a second trial. At his first trial, in which no verdict was reached, the prosecution adhered to a warning against commenting on Reed's failure to take the stand.

At his second trial before the same jury but a different jury, the prosecutor was advised to follow the state constitution and he commented strongly on Reed's lack of testimony.

In affirming Reed's conviction, the 1st District Appellate Court said that:

"Until such time as it is specifically held that this provision on Article 1 Section 10 of the constitution of Ohio is violative of the federal constitution, this court is required to recognize its own oath of office to uphold and apply the constitution of the state of Ohio when it clearly applies."

"We seek to persecute no one," he said, "but will appeal to the highest sense of fair play and equality among all groups."

He explained how he is trying to pick a staff — "trying to get people of good will with the highest talent."

This takes time, he said. If it is done in haste, "we might get six months down the road and find we had the wrong people."

So for the time being, he is negotiating for the temporary loan of persons from other government agencies. For one thing they will form task forces on rules and regulations, and on relations with state and local Fair Employment Practices Commissions.

The new federal law lays heavy stress on cooperation with these states. In fact, the Roosevelt commission's hands are largely tied until a complainant has time to appeal to these states for corrective action.

The commission is expected to establish regional offices in New York, Chicago, Kansas City, Atlanta, New Orleans, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Albuquerque.

After that it will get rolling on what Roosevelt hopes will be a great conciliation task.

His Commerce Department job paid $28,500 a year, the new one $27,000.

Pumpkin Contest To Be Sponsored By Men's Club

Mrs. Grover C. Grant who lives west of Circleville on the Smith-Hulse Road found a notice concerning a big pumpkin contest in a recent edition of "Kingwood Center Notes" sent to her from Mansfield.

She says she thinks the boys and girls of Pickaway County ought to be interested in this contest. We think so, too. Here is the notice:

This year, as last, the Men's Garden Clubs of America are sponsoring a contest for young people to see who can grow the biggest pumpkin. The winner will receive a $25 savings bond and national recognition. It may surprise or embarrass the boys to discover the last year's winner was a girl, Hilda Thompson, of Pheba, Miss. She grew a 98 lb. pumpkin for top honors.

Rules for the contest are rather simple. First, the grower of the pumpkin must be under 16. Second, the weight must be certified by a member of the Men's Garden Clubs of America or the local county agent when no member is available. Third, a picture of the grower with the pumpkin and a certification of the weight must be sent to George Spader, Executive Secretary of the Men's Garden Clubs of America, Morrisville, New York, before November 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has announced plans to create a revolutionary air assault division which will fly to battle on its own wings.

This is the first new type of division created since World War II when armored and airborne divisions came into being. McNamara announced at a news conference that the new division, which will be formed from elements already in existence in the Army, will be organized "and made combat ready as expeditiously as possible" at Ft. Benning, Ga.

While the secretary did not link this new plan in any way with the war in Viet Nam, such a division obviously could be highly useful in the conditions there.

The new division will be designated as the 1st Cavalry Division (airmobile), and its men and equipment will be drawn from both the 2nd Infantry Division and the experimental 11th Air Assault Division now at Ft. Benning.

The present 1st Cavalry, now manning the truce line in Korea, will be renamed the 2nd Infantry Division.

The new air assault division will have 15,787 men and will be equipped with 434 aircraft, almost all of which will be helicopters.

One of the division's brigades will be capable of parachute operations. The division will have about 1,600 ground vehicles.

McNamara said this new type division "will make its greatest contribution to improved combat operations where terrain obstacles and undeveloped communications networks could give enemy guerrilla or light infantry forces an advantage over our standard formations."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Francis E. Myers, Richard S. Donahy and James M. Gault are eligible for the Logan, Ohio, postmastership, the Civil Service Commission has announced.

Donahy now is acting postmaster. There were 11 applicants for the $7,830-a-year post.

Leningrad Retains Beauty Of Old Czarist Culture

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — V. I. Lenin slept here. So did Russia's czars for 200 years. Together they made this northernmost metropolis one of the world's great curiosities.

Here Lenin swept the Bolsheviks to power in 1917, the first Communist takeover in history.

Ironically, this city that bears Lenin's name still honors the czars—Peter the Great, Catherine the Great and others—with monuments and statues and burial in the baroque richness of the Peter and Paul fortress. In Moscow there are no remaining statues to the czars.

Moscow, the city of the commissars and the Soviet capital since 1918, impresses most foreigners as drab and ugly. Leningrad, the city of the czars, gives many foreign travelers from Moscow the impression they have crossed a border.

Leningrad's beauty and similarity to some Western European capitals hits most foreigners immediately.

The Neva River winding past the winter palace of the czars, the golden-spired Admiralty Building and other architectural masterpieces remind some visitors of Paris. The Hermitage, one of the world's great museums and thought by many art lovers to be on a par with the Louvre in Paris, strengthens his impression.

Czar Nicholas I ruled in 1844 that all new buildings in St. Petersburg, as the city then was called, should be seven feet lower than his winter palace. Four and five-story buildings still dominate Leningrad. There are no skyscrapers.

The Muscovite looks at Leningrad with respect, much like an out-of-towner sees New York. It is a nice place to visit, but he does not want to live there, he will say. Some Muscovites say Leningrad is more cultured and slower paced and see it as Russia's "second city."

The Leningrader takes pride in the beauty of his city and by implication the czarist culture that produced it.

Methodists Ban Use of State Grants

LAKEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist Church is forbidding its churches to apply for or accept aid from "ministerial lands" as provided in the Symmes and Ohio Co. land purchases of 1792 and 1794.

A resolution passed at the annual conference meeting here calls for a committee of five laymen and four ministers to be appointed by the bishop to study exemption and state grants to churches.

It also asks Gov. James A. Rhodes and the Ohio General Assembly to study church-owned property in the state that is tax exempt for religious, charitable or educational reasons and to set guidelines for legislation involving possible subsidizing of religious groups.

The Rev. Raymond Beals, pastor of the Indianola Methodist Church in Columbus, asked that legislation concerning the "fair bus bill" be postponed until a state study is completed and guidelines established.

The Rev. Mr. Beals said proponents of the bus bill have used the little-known ministerial land money as a wedge to win legislative approval of the use of tax money to transport parochial and private school pupils. He said about $4,000 a year in ministerial land money is given churches.

He explained that this money must be requested by the churches, and since few churches are aware of its existence, little of the money is given out each year. He said the money comes from land set aside by the Symmes and Ohio Companies, surveyors, in the old Northwest Territory for schools and churches. If the land was not used, money from the land was to go to schools and churches requesting it.

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Our policy," said the tall man — his blue eyes red-rimmed for lack of sleep and his hair untrimmed for lack of time — "Our policy is 'No persecution.'"

The tall man is Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 50. The reason for the sleeplessness and the uncut hair is that he has just been appointed and confirmed to one of the toughest jobs in the federal government, and he has little time to lose.

He is chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and his path-breaking job is to administer Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. This title, which takes effect July 2, outlaws job discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

Already complaints of discrimination have begun to arrive at the commission, and unless it acts fast it is sure to be under fire. But first there is the problem of selecting a commission staff, setting up offices around the nation and drawing up rules and regulations.

Roosevelt took a few minutes out to sit with a reporter on a big black leather couch at the Commerce Department, where he has been undersecretary, and define his general approach to the new job.

"We seek to persecute no one," he said, "but will appeal to the highest sense of fair play and equality among all groups."

He explained how he is trying to pick a staff — "trying to get people of good will with the highest talent."

'No Persecution' Seen Under Employment Law

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of four articles explaining the new equal employment law.

Oilmen, IOOF Post Decisive Victories in LL Minors

Circleville Oil and IOOF moved into a deadlock for first place in the Little League Minors last night with 3-0 slates.

The Oilmen thumped Third National Bank 16-3 and IOOF outslugged Second National Bank in a 20-4 winning effort.

Gary Wertman hurled the six-frame game for the Oilmen. He walked five, fanned eight and gave up four hits.

Alan Hawks started for the Bankers and was charged with the loss. He allowed two bases on balls, struck out two and was touched for eight hits.

Art Foll relieved Hawks in the fourth and finished the game. He walked four, fanned three and gave up three hits.

PACING Circleville Oil's 10-hit attack were Richard Sark and Mike Herron. Sark went three-for-four and belted a double. Herron smacked two bingles in five trips and scored three times.

For Third National, Dave Gilis was the star hitter. He bombed a three-bagger and a single in four trips and tallied two scores.

After a 10-run first frame the

Jim O'Toole Finally Hits Win Column

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jimmy O'Toole is a most happy fella. He finally crashed into the win column, and he owes John Tsitouris a dinner, according to Manager Dick Sisler.

O'Toole's morale had been at rock bottom. But it was lifted Wednesday night when the Cincinnati southpaw beat the New York Mets, 8-4.

However, O'Toole was still far from his ability shown in 1964 when he won 17 games, losing only seven. He had already been charged with five defeats this year.

O'Toole was sent to the showers in the sixth inning when the Mets rapped three hits and scored a run. He was "saved" on Leo Cardenas' two home runs and run-producing doubles by Don Pavletich in the fourth and Pete Rose in the fifth.

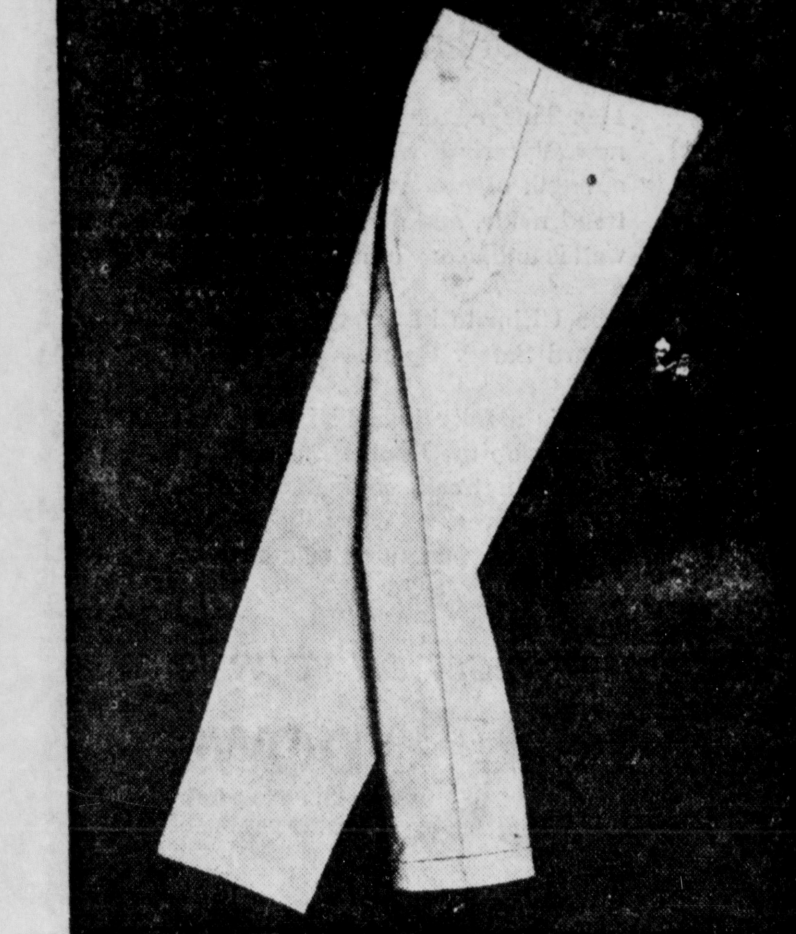

"But," said Sisler, "Jimmy is happy, even if he didn't finish."

"He owes Tsitouris a dinner for that fine relief job," the Cincinnati pilot added with a grin.

Tsitouris pitched brilliantly in relief. The only damaging blow off him was Charlie Smith's home run in the ninth inning.

Tsitouris, who's also having his problems as a starting pitcher, gave up two others hits and fanned seven of the 14 batters he faced—five of them in a row.

Palmer Needs To Win 'Real Bad'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Arnold Palmer appeared to be more concerned about his caddy's welfare than he was about Jack Nicklaus today when he set out in quest of the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The Open is one of the four major tournaments that support Palmer's throne as this country's premier golfer, a position that is shaky and insecure in the face of the challenge by the full-strong 25-year-old from Columbus, Ohio.

Palmer, however, mentioned Nicklaus not at all and his caddy several times after his final preparations over the vast, rolling acres of the Belle River Country Club course, at 1,191 yards the longest ever for an Open.

"I hope he makes it," Palmer grinned. "He's a kind of skinny kid." The caddy is Jack Wallace, a lanky, 15-year-old who is greatly impressed with his good fortune.

Palmer's first act after sizing up his caddy was to strip his bag. He discarded a No. 4 wood and at least three irons then had the boy heft it.

"How's that?" he asked. "Too heavy? Lemme see what else I've got in there."

But underlying his casual banter is the certain — though unspoken — knowledge that he desperately needs to win this 63th Open; that he needs not only to finish higher than tournament favorite Nicklaus but win the whole shooting match.

The last year and a half has been a continuing frustration for the powerful, Ligonier, Pa., master — he has won only once in a year — but the mentions it only obliquely.

"My game is not as good as it has been," he said, "but it's better than it has been recently. It still needs a lot of work."

"But," almost defensively, "it's not that bad, hasn't been for about a year, I'm just finishing second instead of first, that's all. Second four times in a row."

One of the seconds was a tie with Gary Player, nine strokes back of Nicklaus' record-shattering 271 victory in the Masters, a triumph so overwhelming that many feel it vaulted the bulky blond to the No. 1 position held by Palmer for many years.

The victory also triggered his drive toward a professional grand slam — winning the Masters, Open, British Open and PGA in a single year. It's never been accomplished.

"I need to win one real bad," Palmer admitted.

Oilmen, IOOF Post Decisive Victories in LL Minors

Circleville Oil and IOOF moved into a deadlock for first place in the Little League Minors last night with 3-0 slates.

The Oilmen thumped Third National Bank 16-3 and IOOF outslugged Second National Bank in a 20-4 winning effort.

Gary Wertman hurled the six-frame game for the Oilmen. He walked five, fanned eight and gave up four hits.

Alan Hawks started for the Bankers and was charged with the loss. He allowed two bases on balls, struck out two and was touched for eight hits.

Art Foll relieved Hawks in the fourth and finished the game. He walked four, fanned three and gave up three hits.

IOOF's hitting attack was led by Craig Allison, Rick Swank, Dean Aldenderfer, Whaley, and Jim Fausnaugh. Allison went two for four and scored three, Swank and Aldenderfer blasted doubles, Whaley hit three for three and scored two, and Fausnaugh blasted a double and two bingles in three trips and scored three runs.

Tom Taylor and Keith Davis led the Bankers' hitting. Taylor went two for three with a double and Davis bombed a double.

Jim O'Toole Finally Hits Win Column

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jimmy O'Toole is a most happy fella. He finally crashed into the win column, and he owes John Tsiouris a dinner, according to Manager Dick Sisler.

O'Toole's morale had been at rock bottom. But it was lifted Wednesday night when the Cincinnati southpaw beat the New York Mets, 8-4.

However, O'Toole was still far from his ability shown in 1964 when he won 17 games, losing only seven. He had already been charged with five defeats this year.

O'Toole was sent to the showers in the sixth inning when the Mets rapped three hits and scored a run. He was "saved" on Leo Cardenas' two home runs and run-producing doubles by Don Pavletich in the fourth and Pete Rose in the fifth.

"But," said Sisler, "Jimmy is happy, even if he didn't finish."

"He owes Tsiouris a dinner for that fine relief job," the Cincinnati pilot added with a grin.

Tsiouris pitched brilliantly in relief. The only damaging blow off him was Charlie Smith's home run in the ninth inning.

Tsiouris, who's also having his problems as a starting pitcher, gave up two others hits and fanned seven of the 14 batters he faced—five of them in a row.

Oilmen had it easy. They tallied 10 hits and the Bankers managed four.

In the IOOF-Second National struggle, IOOF tallied 15 hits while the Bankers blasted six.

IOOF collected 12 runs in the second to breeze through the rest of the game.

James Whaley went the distance for the Odd Fellows, fanning 15 batters. Kirk Brown and Richard Metcalf split the pitching duties for the Bankers. Brown gave up six hits and Metcalf allowed nine.

IOOF's hitting attack was led by Craig Allison, Rick Swank, Dean Aldenderfer, Whaley, and Jim Fausnaugh. Allison went two for four and scored three, Swank and Aldenderfer blasted doubles, Whaley hit three for three and scored two, and Fausnaugh blasted a double and two bingles in three trips and scored three runs.

Tom Taylor and Keith Davis led the Bankers' hitting. Taylor went two for three with a double and Davis bombed a double.

Coach Red Auerbach of the champion Boston Celtics needs 28 victories next season to reach 1,000th in his 20th season as a coach.

TRIPLE-THREAT — First three-letterman at Notre Dame in 19 years is Kevin Hardy, a soph at the South Bend institution. He is a first-string defensive tackle, reserve center in basketball and right fielder in baseball. Last three-letterman was George Ratterman, now sheriff in Fort Thomas, Ky.

Willie Horton Gets 14 RBIs In 4 Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
C'mon, William Wattison Horton, this is getting monotonous. You drive in four runs, three on a clinching homer, and Detroit wins Saturday. Then you get two more RBI on a homer and double and the Tigers win again Sunday. Then it's another decisive three-run homer and another victory Tuesday.

Willie Horton

And Wednesday night you lead the Tigers to their fourth straight — 9-4 over Boston — with four runs knocked in with a homer, double and single.

That's four homers, 14 RBI and seven hits in 14 trips through the four games. That brings Willie Horton's American League-leading homer total to 15, his RBI total to 46, and his batting average to .363.

That kind of monotony Horton and the Tigers can stand.

While Willie was devastating the slumping Red Sox, the Chicago White Sox climbed to within a half game of first-place Minnesota by handing Camilo Pascual his first loss, 3-1; Cleveland beat Washington 5-0 on Luis Tiant's one-hit pitching and Leon Wagner's batting; Baltimore trimmed the New York Yankees 5-1 with a spree of early homers; and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City twice, 7-1 and 5-4.

In the National League — Los Angeles' front-running Dodgers edged San Francisco 2-1, Philadelphia beat Milwaukee 6-2, Pittsburgh outscored St. Louis 10-9, Cincinnati whipped the New York Mets 8-4, and Houston shaded the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 13 innings.

Detroit pulled out its game against Boston with five runs in the last of the seventh inning, two scoring on Horton's double. The bulky slugger added a two-run homer in the ninth as Boston lost its sixth straight and ninth in the last 10.

Mickey Lolich blanked the Red Sox until the seventh, then was knocked out in a four-run rally that included Carl Yastrzemski's homer with two on. Detroit reliever Fred Gladding picked up the victory while Bob Duliba was charged with the loss.

Washington's only hit off Tiant was Woodie Held's single leading off the seventh. Wagner, meanwhile, drove in four of the Indians' runs with a three-run homer off loser Phil Ortega in the fourth and a single in the ninth.

The White Sox chased Pascual, winner of his first eight decisions, with a three-run fourth after the curve-balling Cuban had allowed only a scratch single by Floyd Robinson over the first three innings.

Robinson started the Chicago uprising with a single, Pete Ward doubled, and they scored on singles by J. C. Martin and Ron Hansen. Pascual's bases-loaded walk to Smoky Burgess forced in the third run.

John Buzhardt, 6-1, was the winner with late relief from Ed Fisher.

Jerry Adair, Sam Bowens and Jackie Brandt socked Al Downing for homers in the first three innings and the Orioles coasted in against the Yankees. Adair added a two-run double in the

115 Lady Golfers Compete in Event At Country Club

There were 115 lady golfers from 12 clubs competing in the Womens Golf Invitational yesterday at the Pickaway Country Club.

Pacing the PCC ladies was Hester Weldon whose 92 for 18 holes was the low gross score in the first flight. Betty Young was just one stroke behind with a 93.

Tying for low net honors were Erma Hedges, Jan McKelvey and Miriam Young with 79s. Joanne York had the second low net score of the first flight with an 80. Edith Gordon had low putts with 35.

In the second flight, Lucille Wilson's 105 was low gross score while Mary A. Wellington was second with 108. Deadlocked for low net were Mary L. Vaughan and Caroline Champion with 80s while Marlene Greene had an 81.

Low putt honors went to Elsie Edstrom with 30.

For the visiting women, Irene Calvin and Bert Smith carded low net scores of 79 in the first flight. Low Gross was turned in by Pam Higgins with an 83 while Eloise Parish was second with 91.

Second Low net in the first flight went to Jan Miller, and low putts to Katie Kintz.

The second flight low gross was carded by Judy Kiser with 97 and Ethel McCreary had 102. Low net in the second flight went to Mildred James with Nellie Armor with an 83. Marge Icenhower used 30 putts on the 18 holes.

The third flight was won by Betty Dunkle with a 109. Mary Ellen Wenzell had a 113 while low net went to Betty Welson with an 86. Evelyn Robinson, Edie Leikerman and Bea Zuane tied for second place honors with 88s. Low putts went to Marti Bisciotti.

Special prizes went to Helen Goehl and Marsha Moore, most improved; Marietta Wagner, the longest drive; Mary Ellen Wenzell, closest to the pin; Marsha Moore, worst hole.

Tiant Hurls One-Hitter For Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Luis is pitching like he did last season, and that's good news."

That was Manager Birdie Tebbetts' comment Wednesday night after his Cleveland Indians had shut out the Washington Senators, 5-0, on a one-hit performance by Luis Tiant.

Tiant's one - hitter was the first for a Cleveland pitcher since Herb Score did it against Baltimore in 1955. But the 24-year-old Cuban, a sophomore in the American League, wasn't sure it was his best performance in the majors.

"I like that game against the Yankees," he recalled. "First one I pitched up here (in the majors). They got only four singles."

The only hit he allowed Wednesday night was a leadoff single to Woodie Held, a former teammate, in the seventh inning. He struck out seven and walked three in winning his sixth game in nine decisions.

Tiant now has four complete games in his last five starts. Asked about this surge after a late start, he replied:

"My arm feels good now. It didn't feel good at the start of the season. It wasn't sore, just tired."

Leon Wagner figured in all of the Tribe's runs, driving in four of them with a homer and a single and scoring the other one on a single by Tiant.

Arledge Reins Winner At Scioto Downs

Jim Arledge of Circleville guided Dixie Crystal to a win last night at Scioto Downs with a time of 2:07 1-5 for the mile. Dixie Crystal returned $10.60, $5.80 and $5 at the mutuels windows.

In the featured eighth race, Royal J. Win, with Forrest Short in the sulky, placed third behind Mike's Lady, who won in 2:09 3-5.

ninth for his third hit.

Lefty Dave McNally posted his first victory in five decisions with the Yanks, scattering six hits in eight innings. Dick Hall held New York in the ninth.

George Brunet threw a five-hitter and struck out nine in the Angels-Athletics opener and Joe Adeock, who drove in two runs with two doubles in the first game, clinched the nightcap with a homer in the sixth inning.

Dean Chance, Cy Young Award winner as the majors' top pitcher last year, started the second game for the Angels but was ineffective again — and lasted only until the fifth.

Buffalo Hurler Plagued by Lousy Luck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Should someone be interested in taking nominations for the unluckiest player in the International League, Buffalo pitcher Craig Anderson would probably draw several votes.

Anderson, still seeking his first victory, held a 2-1 lead over Columbus into the ninth inning Wednesday night and then saw his own throwing error allow the tie-breaking run to score and pave the way for an unearned insurance run which sent him to his eighth defeat, 4-2.

Bob Perry opened the Columbus ninth with a single and reached third on Dave Wissman's single before Jack Damska's sacrifice fly tied the score.

Jimmy Price attempted to advance the runner with a sacrifice. But Anderson slipped fielding the ball and threw wildly to first. Wissman scored.

In other games, Atlanta stretched its winning streak to four with a 9-5 victory over Syracuse and Toronto thumped Toledo 10-4.

Toronto also boosted its winning streak to four with a 16-hit attack against four Toledo pitchers. Starter Jim Horsford lasted only 11-3 innings and absorbed his sixth loss without victory.

Lopez To Manage AL All-Star '9

BOSTON (AP) — Al Lopez, manager of the Chicago White Sox, was named today to manage the American League All-Stars against the National League All-Stars at Minneapolis-St. Paul on July 13.

American League President Joe Cronin said Lopez was selected because Yogi Berra, who managed New York to the league pennant last year and who would have automatically been the All-Star manager, is no longer in the league.

Lopez, patriarch of league managers with 14 years of managerial experience, guided the White Sox to a second-place finish last year.

Semifinals Ahead In Junior Tourney

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Junior Golf Tournament went into semifinal rounds today with a field of eight playing two 18-hole rounds on the 6,258-yard Possum Run course.

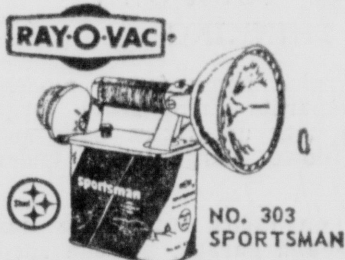

Doug Ward of Westlake eliminated Phil Alkire of Washington Court House, medalist in Monday's qualifying round, 2 and 1, in Wednesday's championship flight.

State high school medalist Yank Heisler of Ravenna advanced with a pair of victories, but was forced an extra hole before ousting Chris Felver of Akron.

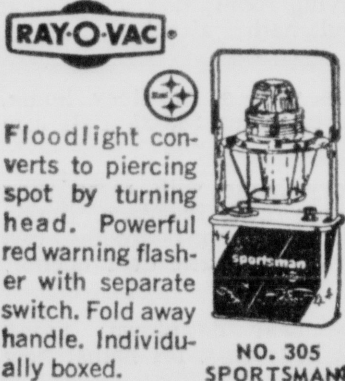

Two finalists will emerge from today's two rounds and battle it out in the 36-hole windup Friday.

Belle Acton cost $2,600 as a yearling and earned $353,063 as a pacing mare.

Ohio Boy Sets Pace In Marbles Tourney

WILDWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Terry Ceplecci of Niles, Ohio, led the National Marbles Championships today after three days of competition.

Ceplecci had a record of 44 victories and 8 losses. The tourney runs through Friday.

Canton Pitcher 17, Signed by Cardinals

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have signed Jerome Pruett, 17, a 6-foot-1, 188-pound pitcher who graduated last week from Lehman High School.

The hurler's mother, Mrs. Robert Pruett, said her son is to report to Sarasota, Fla., in the Cardinals' instruction league.

Bob Steenlage of Britt, Iowa, unbeaten in 12 matches last season, will captain Army's wrestling team next season.

8 Ex-Champs Head Field Of Seniors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eight former champions were in the field that started shooting for prizes today in the Ohio Seniors Golf Tournament.

It's the silver anniversary of the event and most of the Buckeye golfers competing in the 36-hole test today and Friday have silver in their hair.

The huge field of 215 will be trodding over Scioto Country Club's 6,423-yard layout made famous by favorite son Jack Nicklaus. The course has been shortened by more than 300 yards for the veteran golfers.

Henry Ziegenthaler of Dayton, who won the event last year, is back to defend his title. Ziegenthaler, 58, shot a 78 in the rain-curtailed 18-hole tourney at Middletown a year ago.

Allen Rankin, the 71-year-old retired Columbus banker who has won the Seniors nine times, also is competing.

Other former champions competing include John Jacob of Canton; John Valuska, Mingo Junction; Don Gill, Cincinnati; Dick Best, New Philadelphia; Walter Cope, Lima, and Bob Bell, Worthington.

The field is divided into five brackets, with the bulk of the golfers in the Class E division, ages 55-59.

Other brackets are Class D, ages 60-64; C, 65-69; B, 70-74 and A, 75 and over.

The Seniors has come a long way since its inaugural tournament back in 1939, which also was played on the Scioto course. Less than 100 hopefuls participated in the opener and the entry list has grown every year since.

Prairie Lanes Wins

Prairie Lanes defeated Pickaway Dairy, 14-1, yesterday in Mosquito League action.

Stanley Dancer has won the harness driving championship six times at Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, N. Y.

Butch, GE Win Babe Ruth Tilts

L. M. Butch yesterday overpowered Du Pont, 16-2, behind a 16-hit offense while General Electric edged Lindsey Baker Shop, 7-5 in Babe Ruth action.

The GE nine scored four runs in the top of the seventh inning and then held off a rally by Lindsey to post the win.

The Bakers had a three-run final inning. They had two in the first.

Tom Cassill was the winning pitcher. He walked three and fanned six and was touched for nine hits.

THE LOSER was Don Cordle. During six innings, he walked 10, allowed five hits and whiffed 16.

B:11 Pritchard's homerun paced the GE hitting attack. Rick Congrove tripled and Rick Sims doubled for the winners.

Osterle, Cordle and Roger Clark all cracked doubles for the Bakers.

L. M. Butch was never in trouble as Dale Byrd scattered four hits, walked four and fanned eight in a route-going performance.

Terry Martin started for the Du Ponters. He gave up 10 hits and six walks before he was relieved by Pat Whaley who allowed six hits and fanned one.

Phil Diehl belted a single and a double for the winners and batted in three runs to lead the attack. Ronnie Miller was four - for - four, including a double. The other extra base hit came from the bat of Nicky Wickerham. It was a double.

THE L. M. Butch team now has a 3-1 record and holds second place in the Babe Ruth majors. Du Pont is 0-3.

General Electric has won two games and lost one. The bakers have won once in three starts.

Ohio Trapshooting Champions Vie

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Competition began today in the 79th annual Ohio State Trapshooting Championships with the President's Trophy Handicap the featured event of the day.

Defending champions returning for the $25,000 tournament include Bill Davis of Lynchburg, John Raible of Cleveland, Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro and John Sternberger of Trotwood.

Sternberger had the hottest gun during preliminary event Wednesday with a perfect score of 100 hits out of 100 clay targets in the high gun event and 98 of 100 in the doubles.

Willie Horton Gets 14 RBIs In 4 Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
C'mon, William Wattison Horton, this is getting monotonous. You drive in four runs, three on a clinching homer, and Detroit wins Saturday. Then you get two more RBI on a homer and double and the Tigers win again Sunday. Then it's another decisive three-run homer and another victory Tuesday.

Willie Horton

And Wednesday night you lead the Tigers to their fourth straight — 9-4 over Boston — with four runs knocked in with a homer, double and single.

That's four homers, 14 RBI and seven hits in 14 trips through the four games. That brings Willie Horton's American League-leading homer total to 15, his RBI total to 46, and his batting average to .363.

That kind of monotony Horton and the Tigers can stand.

While Willie was devastating the slumping Red Sox, the Chicago White Sox climbed to within a half game of first-place Minnesota by handing Camilo Pascual his first loss, 3-1. Cleveland beat Washington 5-0 on Luis Tiant's one-hit pitching and Leon Wagner's batting; Baltimore trimmed the New York Yankees 5-1 with a spree of early homers; and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City twice, 7-1 and 5-4.

In the National League — Los Angeles' front-running Dodgers edged San Francisco 2-1, Philadelphia beat Milwaukee 6-2, Pittsburgh outscored St. Louis 10-9, Cincinnati whipped the New York Mets 8-4, and Houston shamed the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 13 innings.

Detroit pulled out its game against Boston with five runs in the last of the seventh inning, two scoring on Horton's double. The bulky slugger added a two-run homer in the ninth as Boston lost its sixth straight and ninth in the last 10.

Mickey Lolich blanked the Red Sox until the seventh, then was knocked out in a four-run rally that included Carl Yastrzemski's homer with two on. Detroit reliever Fred Gladding picked up the victory while Bob Duliba was charged with the loss.

Washington's only hit off Tiant was Woodie Held's single leading off the seventh. Wagner, meanwhile, drove in four of the Indians' runs with a three-run homer off loser Phil Ortega in the fourth and a single in the ninth.

The White Sox chased Pascual, winner of his first eight decisions, with a three-run fourth after the curve-balling Cuban had allowed only a scratch single by Floyd Robinson over the first three innings.

Robinson started the Chicago uprising with a single, Pete Ward doubled, and they scored on singles by J. C. Martin and Ron Hansen. Pascual's bases-loaded walk to Smoky Burgess forced in the third run.

John Buzhardt, 6-1, was the winner with late relief from Ed Fisher.

Jerry Adair, Sam Bowens and Jackie Brandt socked Al Downing for homers in the first three innings and the Orioles coasted in against the Yankees. Adair added a two-run double in the

For the visiting women, Irene Calvin and Bert Smith carded low net scores of 79 in the first flight. Low Gross was turned in by Pam Higgins with an 83 while Eloise Parish was second with 91.

Second Low net in the first flight went to Jan Miller, and low putts to Katie Kintz.

The second flight low gross was carded by Judy Kiser with 97 and Ethel McCreary had 102. Low net in the second flight went to Mildred James with Nellie Armor with an 83. Marge Icenhower used 30 putts on the 18 holes.

The third flight was won by Betty Dunkle with a 109. Mary Ellen Wenzell had a 113 while low net went to Betty Welshon with an 86. Evelyn Robinson, Edie Leikerman and Bea Zuane tied for second place honors with 88s. Low putts went to Marti Bisciotti.

Special prizes went to Helen Goehl and Marsha Moore, most improved; Marietta Wagner, longest drive; Mary Ellen Wenzell, closest to the pin; Marsha Moore, worst hole.

Semifinals Ahead In Junior Tourney

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Junior Golf Tournament went into semifinal rounds today with a field of eight playing two 18-hole rounds on the 6,258-yard Possum Run course.

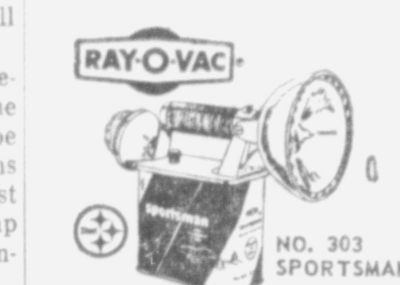

Doug Ward of Westlake eliminated Phil Alkire of Washington Court House, medalist in Monday's qualifying round, 2 and 1, in Wednesday's championship flight.

State high school medalist Yank Heisler of Ravenna advanced with a pair of victories, but was forced an extra hole before ousting Chris Felver of Akron.

Buffalo Hurler Plagued by Lousy Luck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Should someone be interested in taking nominations for the unluckiest player in the International League, Buffalo pitcher Craig Anderson would probably draw several votes.

Anderson, still seeking his first victory, held a 2-1 lead over Columbus into the ninth inning Wednesday night and then saw his own throwing error allow the tie-breaking run to score and pave the way for an unearned insurance run which sent him to his eighth defeat, 4-2.

Bob Perry opened the Columbus ninth with a single and reached third on Dave Wissman's single before Jack Damaska's sacrifice fly tied the score.

Jimmy Price attempted to advance the runner with a sacrifice. But Anderson slipped fielding the ball and threw wildly to first. Wissman scored.

In other games, Atlanta stretched its winning streak to four with a 9-5 victory over Syracuse and Toronto thumped Toledo 10-4.

Toronto also boosted its winning streak to four with a 16-hit attack against four Toledo pitchers. Starter Jim Horsford lasted only 11-3 innings and absorbed his sixth loss without victory.

Lopez To Manage AL All-Star '9

BOSTON (AP)—Al Lopez, manager of the Chicago White Sox, was named today to manage the American League All-Stars against the National League All-Stars at Minneapolis-St. Paul on July 13.

American League President Joe Cronin said Lopez was selected because Yogi Berra, who managed New York to the league pennant last year and who would have automatically been the All-Star manager, is no longer in the league.

Lopez, patriarch of league managers with 14 years of managerial experience, guided the White Sox to a second-place finish last year.

Y. A. Tittle threw 212 touchdown passes during his National Football League career. Johnny Unitas ranks second with 187, one more than Sammy Baugh.

Druggists Top Coke Jets in 10-6 Battle

Win Lifts Bingman's Into 1st Place Tie In Little League

Bingman Drug moved into a tie for first place in the Little League majors yesterday at the Fairgrounds, defeating Coca-Cola, 10-6.

Ricky Blankenship and Marion Long teamed up to hurl the win.

Blankenship went 3 1/2 innings, walking seven and whiffing four. In his 2 1/2 inning mound performance, Long struck out two and did not issue a single walk. They allowed a total of six hits, including a triple by Gary Spangler.

Donald Valentine started for the Coca-Cola Jets and was charged with the loss. He walked three and fanned none when he was relieved by John Hunt.

Hunt, in turn, faced six batters, walking four of them and was relieved by Mark Lutz in the first inning.

Lutz went on to finish the game, fanning five and walking two. Bingman hitters lashed six hits, including doubles by Mike Fuller, Long, Richard Radcliff and Hansell York.

The winners scored six of their 10 runs in the first inning. In the third the Druggens added three and then an insurance tally in the fourth.

The Jets notched five in the fourth inning but failed to keep their rally moving as they scored only once more in the tilt.

The Jets have one win compared to two losses.

Bingman's, with a 3-0 record, is now tied with The Herald Hawks at the top of the loop.

CLEARANCE IS A-OK — Chillicothe Fire Department received its new aerial ladder unit this week, similar to the one Chillicothe is expected to get in October. While on a road test today, Chillicothe Chief Irwin stopped at the local firehouse at the request of Chief Bernard Wolfe. The purpose of the visit was to check the clearance of the new truck at the station vehicle entrance. The clearance checked out "A-OK" according to Chief Wolfe, pictured on the left with Chief Irwin.

Business Briefs

David E. McDonald, local Philco dealer and owner-operator of Mac's Goodyear, and his wife will leave by jet on Sunday for five days in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The five days will be a combination business and vacation trip for the McDonalds for his company's sales of Philco products during the past year.

In San Juan, McDonald will join 2,500 other Philco dealers and their wives in a preview of the company's 1966 consumer electronics line.

In addition to the business and training meeting, the Philco dealers and their wives will enjoy gala evening parties, golf, swimming, tours of the island, horse racing and fashion shows and shopping trips for the women.

Space Twins Get Medals, Are Lauded by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gemini 4 astronauts came to the White House today to accept medals from President Johnson and hear a presidential statement that their historic feats "closed the gap in manned space flight."

Johnson, in remarks prepared for the medal presentation ceremony, said the walk-in-space flight of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II clearly indicated the United States no longer trails the Soviet Union in manned flight.

And he said their achievement had done even more by raising hopes around the world for

"close cooperation among all nations in exploring and using space for the common good and peaceful interests of mankind."

The President planned to pin on their chests the Exceptional Service medals of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Charles W. Mathews, manager of the Gemini program office of the Manned Space Center at Houston, Tex., was to receive the same award.

White's citation said that as "the first man to engage in self-propelled extra-vehicular activity" he expanded the knowledge of space environment.

McDivitt's: "His performance as command pilot significantly extended our knowledge of man's capabilities."

Mathews was honored for "his ability to resolve the most complex technological and managerial problems."

After the White House ceremony, the astronauts' crowded agenda for the day included: A motorcade to the Capitol; luncheon on the Senate side with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey;

a walk to the House side to be introduced to members of that chamber in the well of the House.

Tonight they are to be narrators of one of the most remarkable films ever made — a record of their four-day Gemini adventure. Watching and listening in the State Department auditorium will be diplomats of many nations. Then comes a reception at the State Department where the diplomats will greet the astronauts, Mathews and their families.

Highway Land Curb Denied by Tribunal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court denied Wednesday a writ of mandamus aimed at unsettling advance purchase of highway land by the State Sinking Fund Commission.

State Rep. Paul J. Lynch of Columbus, acting as a taxpayer failed to get the necessary six high court votes to declare the financing unconstitutional. The writ sought by Lynch would have required the commission to revoke $25 million worth of certificates of obligation issued last year.

Ohio Elksdom's 'Grand Old Man' Dies

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Leslie E. Strong, known throughout Ohio as the "Grand Old Man of Elksdom," died here Wednesday. He was 70.

He suffered a stroke Tuesday while dressing for work. He was a Stark County deputy auditor.

For nearly 25 years, Strong served as state chairman of the Elks veterans hospital program. His activities saw monthly visits to each of the six VA hospitals in the state bringing with him groups to entertain the veterans.

He was instrumental in establishing a therapy program using ceramics which was copied over the nation.

Christmas gifts were distributed annually under his direction by Elks to veterans.

Strong served as secretary of the Ohio Elks Association for 13 years, retiring two years ago.

He was twice exalted ruler of Canton Elks Lodge.

He is survived by three sisters. His wife, Gladys died last April 1.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. EDT Friday at the Arnold-Lynch Funeral Home. Members of Canton Elks Lodge will hold services at 9 tonight.

CLEARANCE IS A-OK — Chillicothe Fire Department received its new aerial ladder unit this week, similar to the one Circleville is expected to get in October. While on a road test today, Chillicothe Chief Irwin stopped at the local firehouse at the request of Chief Bernard Wolfe. The purpose of the visit was to check the clearance of the new truck at the station vehicle entrance. The clearance checked out "A-OK" according to Chief Wolfe, pictured on the left with Chief Irwin.

Business Briefs

David E. McDonald, local Philco dealer and owner-operator of Mac's Goodyear, and his wife will leave by jet on Sunday for five days in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The five days will be a combination business and vacation trip for the McDonalds for his company's sales of Philco products during the past year.

In San Juan, McDonald will join 2,500 other Philco dealers and their wives in a preview of the company's 1966 consumer electronics line.

In addition to the business and training meeting, the Philco dealers and their wives will enjoy gala evening parties, golf, swimming, tours of the island, horse racing and fashion shows and shopping trips for the women.

Space Twins Get Medals, Are Lauded by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gemini 4 astronauts came to the White House today to accept medals from President Johnson and hear a presidential statement that their historic feats "closed the gap in manned space flight."

Johnson, in remarks prepared for the medal presentation ceremony, said the walk-in-space flight of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II clearly indicated the United States no longer trails the Soviet Union in manned flight.

And he said their achievement had done even more by raising hopes around the world for

"close cooperation among all nations in exploring and using space for the common good and peaceful interests of mankind."

The President planned to pin on their chests the Exceptional Service medals of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Charles W. Mathews, manager of the Gemini program office of the Manned Space Center at Houston, Tex., was to receive the same award.

White's citation said that as "the first man to engage in self-propelled extra-vehicular activity" he expanded the knowledge of space environment.

McDivitt's: "His performance as command pilot significantly extended our knowledge of man's capabilities."

Mathews was honored for "his ability to resolve the most complex technological and managerial problems."

After the White House ceremony, the astronauts' crowded agenda for the day included: A motorcade to the Capitol; luncheon on the Senate side with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey;

a walk to the House side to be introduced to members of that chamber in the well of the House.

Tonight they are to be narrators of one of the most remarkable films ever made — a record of their four-day Gemini adventure. Watching and listening in the State Department auditorium will be diplomats of many nations. Then comes a reception at the State Department where the diplomats will greet the astronauts, Mathews and their families.

Highway Land Curb Denied by Tribunal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court denied Wednesday a writ of mandamus aimed at unsetting advance purchase of highway land by the State Sinking Fund Commission.

State Rep. Paul J. Lynch of Columbus, acting as a taxpayer failed to get the necessary six high court votes to declare the financing unconstitutional. The writ sought by Lynch would have required the commission to revoke $25 million worth of certificates of obligation issued last year.

Ohio Elksdom's 'Grand Old Man' Dies

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Leslie E. Strong, known throughout Ohio as the "Grand Old Man of Elksdom," died here Wednesday. He was 70.

He suffered a stroke Tuesday while dressing for work. He was a Stark County deputy auditor.

For nearly 25 years, Strong served as state chairman of the Elks veterans hospital program. His activities saw monthly visits to each of the six VA hospitals in the state bringing with him groups to entertain the veterans.

He was instrumental in establishing a therapy program using ceramics which was copied over the nation.

Christmas gifts were distributed annually under his direction by Elks to veterans.

Strong served as secretary of the Ohio Elks Association for 13 years, retiring two years ago.

He was twice exalted ruler of Canton Elks Lodge.

He is survived by three sisters. His wife, Gladys died last April 1.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. EDT Friday at the Arnold—Lynch Funeral Home. Members of Canton Elks Lodge will hold services at 9 tonight.

Miss Saunders Graduated at UC

Sixty-six young women were awarded bachelor of science degrees in nursing during commencement exercises at the University of Cincinnati.

Among them was Miss Mary Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Saunders, Knollwood Village.

The College of Nursing and Health is a major unit in the University Medical Center.

Miss Saunders has been accepted in the Navy Nurse Corps of the Armed Services Reserve program.
